only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front The Battle of the Fields tells the story of rural community and authority in Britain during the Second World War by looking at the County War Agricultural Executive Committees From 1939 they were imbued with powers to transform British farming to combat the loss of food imports caused by German naval activity and initial European mainland successes Their powers were sweeping and draconian When fully exercised against recalcitrant farmers dispossession in part or whole could and did result This book includes the most detailed analysis of these dispossessions including the tragic case of Ray Walden the Hampshire farmer who was killed by police after refusing to leave hisfarmhouse in 1940 The committees were deemed successful by Whitehall as harbingers of modernity mechanization draining artificial fertilizers reclamation of heaths marshes and woodlands We now deplore some of these changes but Britain did not starve in large part thanks to their efforts This book will appeal not
tothose who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front It will also demonstrate to

Short,2000 During the Second World War there was concern as to whether Britain unable to import food from abroad would be able to feed the population Therefore the National Farm Survey was conducted during 1941 43 and described every farm year closure period Information on farming types cropping and stocking machinery employment farm size and structure land ownership and farm buildings was provided for all farms which were larger than 5 acres at that time This book gives an
