South Coast Saunter Rod Long, 2007 One fine day Rod Long along with his long term partner Judy commenced walking the south coast of England Unheralded unfocused and unplanned the enterprise commenced one sunny Saturday morning ten years ago with a simple eight mile walk out of Lymington in the New Forest The next weekend he continued from where he left off last time And so it continued Another fine day many years later Rod decided to write up his by now long series of walks into a comprehensive whole Based on the diary entries he has kept all his life the project quickly shaped up into what was anything but a conventional travel book Rather than simply describing the local history flora and fauna along the way as would most normally be the case we are rather given an illuminating insight into how a couple described by the author as ordinary unathletic and not especially well off could pull off the challenge of walking the whole of the south coast over a three year period in what was essentially just their spare time

The Secret Teachings of Plants Stephen Harrod Buhner,2004-10-27 Reveals the use of direct perception in understanding Nature medicinal plants and the healing of human disease Explores the techniques used by indigenous and Western peoples to learn directly from the plants themselves including those of Henry David Thoreau Goethe and Masanobu Fukuoka author of The One Straw Revolution Contains leading edge information on the heart as an organ of perception All ancient and indigenous peoples insisted their knowledge of plant medicines came from the plants themselves and not through trial and error experimentation Less well known is that many Western peoples made this same assertion There are in fact two modes of cognition available to all human beings the brain based linear and the heart based holistic The heart centered mode of perception can be exceptionally accurate and detailed in its information gathering capacities if as indigenous and ancient peoples asserted the heart s ability as an organ of perception is developed Author Stephen Harrod Buhner explores this second mode of perception in great detail through the work of numerous remarkable people from Luther Burbank who cultivated the majority of food plants we now take for granted to the great German poet and scientist Goethe and his studies of the metamorphosis of plants Buhner explores the commonalities among these individuals in their approach to learning from the plant world and outlines the specific steps involved Readers will gain the tools necessary to gather information directly from the heart of Nature to directly learn the medicinal uses of plants to engage in diagnosis of disease and to understand the soul making process that such deep connection with the world engenders
