Proceedings of the 20th European Conference on Management, Leadership and Governance Mafalda Patuleia, 2024

Anchored in Place Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges Symposium Proceedings Innovative Teaching Practices Janina

Morska, Alan Rogerson, 2023-06-14 This volume contains the papers presented at the International Symposium Innovative Teaching Practices held on August 14 18 2023 in The Queen s College Oxford University The Symposium was organized by The Mathematics Education for the Future Project an international philanthropic project founded in 1986 and dedicated to innovation in mathematics science computer and statistics education Responsibility in Small Things Monde

Ndandani, 2020-08-24 Aspiring to be upright and honourable This book is about metaphorical bricks small things that make walls of all types of buildings within which people work and live The figurative walls in the pages of this book are the Noah social types of the holy Bible Behaviour is the function of character A well behaved person young and old develops to be a paragon of virtue a rare species amongst the peoples of this world Universal and generic good behavior project starts with casual greeting one s family members in the morning and after intervals of absence from one s home Greeting people anywhere should be spontaneous Children learn being courteous from their homes same as telling the truth all the time giving lies no space Hence building average good and steadfast citizenry is the responsibility of each homestead and family If being sturdy is the essential feature of leadership then every citizen in any country in the world can have her his turn to lead

The Unresolved National Question in South Africa Edward Webster, Karin Pampallis, John Mawbey, Jeremy Cronin, 2017-03-01 This volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question The re emergence of debates on the decolonisation of knowledge has revived interest in the National Question which began over a century ago and remains unresolved Tensions that were suppressed and hidden in the past are now being openly debated Despite this the goal of one united nation living prosperously under a constitutional democracy remains elusive This edited volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question especially during the apartheid years and goes on to discuss its relevance for South Africa today and in the future Instead of imposing a particular understanding of the National Question the editors identified a number of political traditions and allowed contributors the freedom to define the question as they believed appropriate in other words to explain what they thought was the Unresolved National Question This has resulted in a rich tapestry of interweaving perceptions The volume is structured in two parts The first examines four foundational traditions Marxism Leninism the Colonialism of a Special Type thesis the Congress tradition the Trotskyist tradition and Africanism The second part explores the various shifts in the debate from the 1960s onwards and includes chapters on Afrikaner nationalism ethnic issues black consciousness feminism workerism and constitutionalism The editors hope that by revisiting the debates not popularly known among the scholarly mainstream this volume will become a catalyst for an enriched debate on our identity and our future

South Africa-China Relations Chris Alden,Yu-Shan Wu,2021-01-23 With the pace of trade and investment picking up coupled with closer international cooperation with Beijing through the G20 FOCAC and BRICS grouping South Africa China ties are assuming a significant position in continental and even global affairs At the same time it is a relationship of paradoxes breaking with many of the assumptions that underpin contemporary analyses of China Africa ties This edited volume examines the South Africa China relationship through a survey of its diplomatic partnership economic ties and broader community relations These important aspects that are often conflated as a single relationship yet what is important to explore are how these components reflect different China South Africa relationships and how they intersect

A Soviet Journey Alex La Guma, 2017-04-18 In 1978 the South African activist and novelist Alex La Guma 1925 1985 published A Soviet Journey a memoir of his travels in the Soviet Union Today it stands as one of the longest and most substantive first hand accounts of the USSR by an African writer La Guma's book is consequently a rare and important document of the anti apartheid struggle and the Cold War period depicting the Soviet model from an African perspective and the specific meaning it held for those envisioning a future South Africa For many members of the African National Congress and the South African Communist Party the Soviet Union represented a political system that had achieved political and economic justice through socialism a point of view that has since been lost with the collapse of the USSR and the end of the Cold War This new edition of A Soviet Journey the first since 1978 restores this vision to the historical record highlighting how activist intellectuals like La Guma looked to the Soviet Union as a paradigm of self determination decolonization and postcolonial development The introduction by Christopher J Lee discusses these elements of La Guma's text in addition to situating La Guma more broadly within the intercontinental spaces of the Black Atlantic and an emergent Third World Presenting a more expansive view of African literature and its global intellectual engagements A Soviet Journey will be of interest to readers of African fiction and non fiction South African history postcolonial Cold War studies and radical political thought
