Walter Watkins Police Report:

Torn: I Don't Need You, But I Want You Latoya Chander, 2015-07-30 Latavia Carter can't live or face the present because she's stuck in her past. She marries the man of her dreams but she's unable to appreciate him because of her haunting past. Lies, secrets, and infidelity cause her life and the ones around her to spiral out of control. But is it her fault? How can it be when just about everyone in her immediate circle has a secret of his or her own? Who can she trust? Better yet, how can she trust anyone when she can't even trust herself? Darnell Carter, also known as Latavia's Aladdin, is the epitome of the perfect man. His decision to keep a one-night stand's secret sends the world he's worked so hard to build crumbling down, placing him in a life-or-death situation. Forced to take matters into his own hands as divorce isn't an option in his eyes, Darnell promises to honor his vows by any means necessary. He is a firm believer of his vow: Until death do us part, which he doesn't take lightly. Nariah Westbrook is a scorned woman faced with demons of her own. She believes a man is only good for one thing: if he can manage to get that right. If sex doesn't include her being in a position of power, she wants nothing to do with it until she finds herself falling in love with Mahogany, who is emotionally unavailable and isn't the person she set out to be. Nariah allows sex to dictate her life, which in turn fucks her and the world around her. Real good. Come take a journey into this romantic thriller of sex, lies, and betrayal and see if Torn won't have you second-guessing who you can trust, especially if you want to overshadow your needs. This unique book tells the story of the day-to-day life of a young criminal circuit lawyer from Tasmania. Kerry Dillon, some 50 years ago, in a country where many people lived as generations before had lived back into the mists of time. Employed as a 22-year-old lawyer in the Office of the Public Solicitor WA Lalor in the Territory of Papua and New Guinea, Kerry travelled the country on Supreme Court criminal circuits from 1969 to 1971, appearing as counsel for Indigenous people accused of serious criminal offences, including stealing, rape, and wilful murder. Written as a chronicle, this account features descriptions of criminal cases in major centres and in remote places only accessible by small planes. It depicts the clash of cultures as Australian criminal law was introduced, and there is valuable material on the application of the rule of law in the emerging nation. The differing ways of life between Papua New Guinean communities and the wide variation in the character of their interactions with Europeans and the Administration was a significant part of the complex environment in which Kerry's experiences in the country took place and which his account illustrates Michael Adams QC Australia in the International Legal System Madelaine Chiam, Alison Duxbury, 2025-08-21 What impact has Australia had on international law and what is its significance in terms of its participation in the transnational legal system This collection of essays delves into the history of Australia's interactions with international law and considers how its people have shaped international law It explores key issues such as the country's imperial and settler past It assesses how Australians have contributed to key institutions such as the ICJ the UN and the British Commonwealth It gives a fascinating insight into international law's impact on a domestic legal system and the complex and multifaceted nature of that relationship Scholars from across the international spectrum whether in the field of law politics or history will welcome this erudite and engaging work *Catalogue of the Public Documents of the ...
