Reading Comprehension and Questions

THE AMAZING SAGUARO CACTUS

Did you know that there is a special kind of cactus called the Saguaro? Let's learn more about it and how it grows!

What is a Saguaro Cactus?

The Saguaro cactus is a big, columnar cactus that lives in the desert. It is the only cactus with arms reaching up to the sky. These arms can grow really, really tall – some can be as tall as a person!

Where Do They Grow?

Saguaro cacti live in the hot and sunny place called the desert. You can find a special desert called the Sonoran Desert, which is in parts of Arizona, California, Mexico. The Saguaro cactus loves the warm weather and the bright sunlight.

How Do They Grow?

Saguaro cacti use the holes for water in the desert. They like to live in sandy soil, and when it rains, they absorb the water. They also have a special way to store water in their arms. This helps them survive in the dry desert. They also have a special way to protect themselves from the sun. They have a thick, waxy skin that keeps the water inside. They also have a special way to protect themselves from the cold. They have a special way to protect themselves from the heat. They have a special way to protect themselves from the cold. They have a special way to protect themselves from the heat.

Living Things

Living in the desert can be tough because there isn't a lot of water. The Saguaro cactus is very smart – it can store water in its arms. When it rains, the water soaks up the cactus, and when it's dry, the cactus uses the water it stored. That's how the Saguaro cactus can live in the desert.

In conclusion, the Saguaro cactus is an amazing plant that lives in the desert and grows really tall. It grows to be a special kind of cactus, and it's a great way to learn about the desert. So, the next time you think about deserts, remember the tall and mighty Saguaro!

Short, Deanna Day, Jean Schroeder, 2023-10-10 With the world visibly present in students' lives through technology, mass and social media, economic interdependency and global mobility, it is more important than ever to develop curriculum that is intercultural. In Teaching Globally: Reading the World Through Literature, a community of educators shows us how to use global children's literature to help students explore their own cultural identities. Edited by Kathy Short, Deanna Day, and Jean Schroeder, this book explains why global curriculum is important and how you can make space for it within district and state school mandates. Teaching Globally is built around a curriculum framework developed by Short and can help teachers integrate a global focus into existing literacy and social studies curricula, evaluate global resources, guide students as they investigate cross-cultural issues, and create classroom activities with an intercultural perspective. Filled with vignettes from K-8 urban, suburban, and rural schools that describe successes and struggles, Teaching Globally aims to integrate global literature into classrooms and challenge students to understand and accept those different from themselves. The book also includes extensive lists of recommendations, websites, professional books, and an appendix of global text sets as mentioned by the authors.
