Gasher, 2002 British Columbia's billion dollar film industry trails behind only those of California and New York. This book recounts the story of British Columbia's rapid rise from relative obscurity in the film world to its current status as Hollywood North. Gasher positions the industry as a model for commercial film production in the twenty-first century, one strongly shaped by a perception of cinema as a medium not of culture but of regional industrial development. He addresses the specific economic and geographic factors that contribute to the province's success, such as the low Canadian dollar and BC's proximity to Los Angeles. Hollywood North is an important book that brings into focus the tension between globalization and localization in the film industry. The Year Book of British Columbia and Manual of Provincial Information R. The Commercial Handbook of Canada, 1924 The Year Book of British Columbia and Manual of Provincial Information ... British Columbia. Bureau of Provincial Information, 1903 Pacific Ports Manual, 1920 Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people, institutions, organizations, publications, art, literature, languages, and history. It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject, genre, type of document, and province or territory. Titles of national, provincial, territorial, or regional interest are included in every subject area when available. The contents of the book are indexed four ways: by name, title, French subject, and English subject. And to facilitate browsing, the major reference books, those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region, are also cross-referenced. Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages. Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation. The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content, arrangements, and indexing of works, the availability of non-print formats, previous editions, and title changes, and related works. Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers. Agriculture Handbook, 2008-07 The Right to Food Guidelines Food and Agriculture Organization of the
