What Is Cool?

TITLE

INTRO

The party is one of the most well-known social events across all cultures. Once reserved for celebrating birthdays, holidays, and other specific occasions, the modern party has grown beyond those limits, often sprouting up without singular intent or reason. Parties are a hub for social interaction among youths and have naturally been a space of uncertainty as attendees attempt to both "have fun" and "be cool." While the instructional video Show Off! How To Be Cool At Parties engages with some decidedly uncool ideas, it presents the idea of "coolness" as attainable, and grounds the archetype of the "Cool Person at the Party" within historical contexts.

SUMMARY

Show Off! How To Be Cool At Parties (Stunts, Tricks and Gags to Amaze Your Friends) is an instructional video released on VHS in 1986. Nearly a half-hour long, the video stars Malcolm-Jamal Warner, best known for his role on The Cosby Show, and a cast of relatively unknown actors and comedians as they attempt to instruct the viewer on the fine art of being cool around other people. Despite the central thesis of the video, much of its material is uncool, impractical, or downright strange. For example, there is some suspension of disbelief that even young children of the 1980s would find coolness in pretending to be attacked by a dog or playing the air piano.

Through a modern lens, Show Off! possesses a toothlessness, but this may be a direct response to the events of its time. According to Haynes Johnson of the Washington Post, 1986 was "A Year of National Shocks," a time when "events seemed out of control." In the waning years of the Cold War, 1986 was underlined by two major disasters: the failed launch of the Space Shuttle Challenger in January and the nuclear explosion at Chernobyl in April. These events sowed doubt about global technologies and fear in the systems and infrastructure designed to care for us. Retreating to the mundanities of nose whistling and "catching" an invisible ball in a paper bag were as much about staying grounded as they were maintaining a sense of control.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, Show Off! How To Be Cool At Parties is an instructional video that acts as a direct response to politics and trauma of the time through the social archetype of the cool person at a party. Although it presents a hazy idea of what "coolness" could look like, the video begs the opposite question: How does one become uncool at parties? Warner's introduction to the video includes the rule of having fun, not for one's own sake, but to ensure that one's friends are having fun. Perhaps the true turning point of "cool" is thinking outward.

A critical analysis of the 2007-2009 global financial and economic crisis and its implications for the travel industry and associated businesses Manuel Kaar,2009-09-17 Inhaltsangabe Introduction At present spring 2009 the world experiences one of the most severe economic crises in post WWII history precipitated mainly by the U S sub prime mortgage crisis which became apparent to the broad public in 2007 In 2008 the U S sub prime crisis turned into a global financial crisis and subsequently into a global economic downturn that forced numerous countries into recession Stock markets have fallen large financial institutions have collapsed and governments had to come up with rescue packages to bail out their financial systems Although it can be argued that overall the tourism industry may not be as vulnerable as other commercial sectors when it comes to fluctuations in clients purchasing power in the medium term tourism businesses are still likely to be at least as seriously affected by the upcoming new distribution of economic power as any other industry A long term trade and industry downturn may bring about a broad range of changes to the world like altered roles of the United States the European Union and the Asian block insecurity and crime a different understanding of handling energy resources further polarization between rich and poor or changing values and therefore consumer preferences in general to name just a few All these factors may potentially have adverse impacts on tourism businesses and thus require adequate attention and timely academic research However change can also mean positive development and can open up new chances and opportunities for the world economy These opportunities need to be identified assessed and exploited With an estimated direct and indirect contribution of the travel and tourism sector of 9.4 percent to global GDP 10.9 percent to world exports and 9.4 percent to world investment the significance of the industry's role in the struggle for economic recovery clearly must not be underestimated As the tourism industry is all about pleasant experiences and the positive things in life it is sometimes hard to think about crisis management When having to operate in an economically insecure environment of the current dimension numerous managers therefore face the challenging situation of having to make decisions in fields they do have little or no knowledge about However in a fast changing and highly volatile economic climate like the present inaccurate decisions by executives of tourism businesses can have devastating consequences and can

The Role of Art Direction in Cinematic Storytelling: A Critical Analysis Md Ishtiaq Hossain, 2025-08-29 The art direction can be identified as one of the core yet under researched aspects of telling a story in a cinematographic way In addition to surface work of designing sets and costumes the art direction defines the way audience takes cognizance of the proposed narrative emotion and ideology The present paper critically examines the role of art direction in film as an exemplary cultural aesthetic and psychological practice through which there is mediation between the script and screen The study develops a theoretical framework drawing on feminist stance on visual pleasure by Laura Mulvey psychoanalytic lens by Sigmund Freud and semiotic exploration by Roland Barthes as approaches to seeing the art direction as a language of symbols that go beyond mise en scene The paper explores the structure of narrative meaning in a range of visual and spatial aspects of selected films namely Satyajit Ray Pather Panchali 1955 Alfred Hitchcock Psycho 1960 Peter Greenaway The Pillow Book 1996 Kaushik Ganguly Shabd 2013 Sam Mendes 1917 2019 Daniel Craig No Time to Die 2021 and Mezbaur Rahman Sumon Hawa 2022 Such movies across Bangladesh India England and America show how the setting of the film conveys both screening instructions and aculturality The results indicate that the art direction does not serve solely as ornamentation but as an element of the narrative that produces psychological depths and social commentaries and ideological backgrounds Through the interpretation of visual metaphor and symbolic system this paper emphasizes how art direction is used to engage the audience into a form of immersion that helps audience to interpret films and induce emotions and embeds film into larger cultural discourses The discussion also highlights the necessity of further attention to art direction in multinational cinema especially on the examples of such countries like Bangladesh where industrial cultural and aesthetic problems collide In summary the paper postulates that the art direction is a key component in invoking the reality in cinema production expressing the scripts used into worlds experienced on the screen framing reception of the audience of the reality seen and ensuring the perpetual vitality of the cinematic reality as entertainment and cultural texts

COVENANT THEOLOGY: A Critical Analysis Of Current Pentecostal Covenant Theology , A Critical Analysis of Judicial Appointments in India (with respect to Higher Judiciary) Sanjit Kumar Naskar,2023-05-10 The Author Sanjit Kumar Naskar in this book titled A CRITICAL ANALYSIS OF JUDICIAL APPOINTMENTS IN INDIA has referred a wide range of resources viz books online law journals articles from authoritative online resources Firstly the Author would review the book written by Prof Madhav Godbole In his book titled The Judiciary and Governance in India he advocates for the Judicial Accountability in the higher judiciary and the need for such judicial accountability in India However Prof Madhav Godbole though touched the aspect of accountability of lower judiciary in the form of transfers made by the higher judiciary and also had discussed the politicization of the judiciary in this regard he completely ignores the transparency in the appointment process regarding the lower judiciary Secondly another important literary source which the Author has referred is regarding the Phd thesis by Prof V R Jayadevan entitled Judicial Creativity in Constitutional Interpretation The Author has referred this thesis in light of explaining the historical background of system of appointments of judges in the higher judiciary as well as to support the arguments being raised by the Author in relation to the selection of judges and their condition of services in the higher judiciary Although the research work done by Prof Jayadevan is detail oriented and well established and argumentative still the Author finds the holding of Prof Jayadevan regarding the adoption of seniority rule in the matter of the appointment of CJI in India not proper and has referred the argument of Justice Katju Refer Chapter II of Dissertation in order to counter the argument put forward by Prof Jayadevan in his work Thirdly another major literary resource referred by the Author in the current dissertation is of the article The NJAC Act Is it the perfect remedy written by Vikram Mishra and Ananth Balaji In their article the writers have focused on the NJAC Act 2014 and analyzed the Act in a critical manner The Author while critically analyzing the NJAC Act 2014 in the Chapter III of the dissertation has referred to this article and supported his arguments based on the arguments proposed by the writers in the abovementioned article Though this article is argumentative and represents the shortcomings of the NJAC Act 2014 in a plain and language which is easily comprehensible yet this article fails to appreciate the salient features of the NJAC Act 2014 Although it explains in a precise manner the shift from the collegium system of selection of judges in the higher judiciary to system of appointment of judges in the higher judiciary by the commission established under the NJAC Act 2014 Lastly the Author has referred the work of Prof Tom S

Clark in his book titled The Limits of Judicial Independence which deals with the limits of judicial independence where the author holds that in order to see whether the judiciary is independent or not depends upon the judicial behaviour of the judges of a particular legal system Although the judicial behaviour holds the key to bring desirable results in the legal system of a particular country still the Author feels that somewhere down the line Prof Tom S Clark is not able to justify the significance of the role of judicial behaviour as an additional criteria of selection of judges in the higher judiciary besides measuring the judicial independence of a particular legal system

Methods in Information Systems: Volume 3 Leslie P. Willcocks, Chris Sauer, Mary C. Lacity, 2016-05-20 This edited three volume edition brings together significant papers previously published in the Journal of Information Technology (JIT) over its 30 year publication history. The three volumes of Enacting Research Methods in Information Systems celebrate the methodological pluralism used to advance our understanding of information technology's role in the world today. In addition to quantitative methods from the positivist tradition, JIT also values methodological articles from critical research perspectives, interpretive traditions, historical perspectives, grounded theory and action research, and design science approaches. Volume 1 covers Critical Research, Grounded Theory, and Historical Approaches. Volume 2 deals with Interpretive Approaches and also explores Action Research. Volume 3 focuses on Design Science Approaches and discusses Alternative Approaches including Semiotics, Research Complexity, Theory and Gender in IS Research. The Journal of Information Technology (JIT) was started in 1986 by Professors Frank Land and Igor Aleksander with the aim of bringing technology and management together and bridging the great divide between the two disciplines. The Journal was created with the vision of making the impact of complex interactions and developments in technology more accessible to a wider audience. Retaining this initial focus, the JIT has gone on to extend into new and innovative areas of research such as the launch of JITTC in 2010. A high impact journal, JIT shall continue to publish leading trends based on significant research in the field.
