24pt Edition) , Reverse Subsidies in Global Monopsony Capitalism Dev Nathan, Shikha Silliman Bhattacharjee, S. Rahul, Purushottam Kumar, Immanuel Dahagani, Sukhpal Singh, Padmini Swaminathan, 2022-05-26 This book provides a firm analytical base to discussions about injustice and the unequal distribution of gains from global production in the form of global monopsony capitalism. It utilizes the concept of reverse subsidies as the purchase of gendered labour and environmental services below their costs of production in garment value chains in India and other garment producing countries such as Bangladesh and Cambodia. Environmental services such as freshwater for garment manufacture and land for cotton production are degraded by overuse and untreated waste disposal. The resulting higher profits from the low prices of garments are captured by global brands using their monopsony position with few buyers and myriad sellers in the market. This book links the concept of reverse subsidies with those of injustice, inequality and sustainability in global production.

Orientalism and Reverse Orientalism in Literature and Film Sharmani Patricia Gabriel, Bernard Wilson, 2021-06-17 Acknowledging the significance of Edward Said's Orientalism for contemporary discourse, the contributors to this volume deconstruct, rearrange and challenge elements of his thesis, looking at the new conditions and opportunities offered by globalization. What can a renewed or reconceptualized Orientalism teach us about the force and limits of our racial imaginary, specifically in relation to various national contexts? In what ways, for example, considering our greater cross-cultural interaction, have clichés and stereotypes undergone a metamorphosis in contemporary societies and cultures? Theoretically and empirically, this book offers an expansive range of contexts, comprising the insights, analytical positions and perspectives of a transnational team of scholars of comparative literature and literary and cultural studies based in Australia, Hong Kong, Japan, Malaysia, USA, Singapore, Taiwan and Turkey. Working with, through and beyond Orientalism, they examine a variety of cultural texts, including the novel, short story, poetry, film, graphic memoir, social thought and life writing. Making connections across centuries and continents, they articulate cultural representation and discourse through multiple approaches, including critical content analysis, historical contextualization, postcolonial theory, gender theory, performativity, intertextuality and intersectionality. Given its unique approach, this book will be essential reading for scholars of literary theory, film studies and Asian studies, as well as for those with a general interest in postcolonial literature and film.
