By most accounts the United States has deported around five million people since 1882 but this includes only what the federal government calls formal deportations Voluntary departures where undocumented immigrants who have been detained agree to leave within a specified time period and self deportations where undocumented immigrants leave because legal structures in the United States have made their lives too difficult and frightening together constitute 90% of the undocumented immigrants who have been expelled by the federal government This brings the number of deportees to fifty six million These forms of deportation rely on threats and coercion created at the federal state and local levels using large scale publicity campaigns the fear of immigration raids and detentions to cost effectively push people out of the country Here Adam Goodman traces a comprehensive history of American deportation policies from 1882 to the present and near future He shows that one of the country s largest deportation operations expelled hundreds of thousands of people almost exclusively through the use of voluntary departures and through carefully planned fear campaigns that terrified undocumented immigrants through newspaper radio and television publicity These deportation efforts have disproportionately targeted Mexican immigrants who make up half of non citizens but 90% of deportees Goodman examines the political economy of these deportation operations arguing that they run on private transportation companies corrupt public private relations and the creation of fear based internal borders for long term undocumented residents He grounds his conclusions in over four years of research in English and Spanish language archives and twenty five oral histories conducted with both immigration officials and immigrants revealing for the first time the true magnitude and deep historical roots of anti immigrant policy in the United Statesws that s Driving Excellence Mark Aesch,2011-02-01 Driving Excellence tells the inspiring story of one man who with no formal business training turned an entire industry on its head Mark Aesch proves that we really can run government like a business and provide value to taxpayers and shareholders alike When Aesch took over the Rochester Genesee Regional Transportation Authority in 2004 it was operating with a 27 7 million dollar deficit and was poised to raise fares lay off employees and slash service Under Aesch s leadership those deficits have been eradicated and replaced with multimillion dollar surpluses reliance on taxpayer subsidies has been reduced demand for service has increased at rates three times the national average and in an unprecedented move the fare at the Authority s two largest subsidiaries were actually reduced In Driving Excellence Aesch shows readers how to create a culture built around selflessness rather than ego and get employees invested in saving the company In describing the transition from an ailing business to one that enjoys stunning success lower fares multi million surpluses and the highest ridership and customer satisfaction levels in twenty years Aesch offers powerful principles that any organization can implement to achieve exceptional results Automobile Engineer ,1932 The Federal Reporter ,1972 Metropolitan Management,
