His 1934 book From Maximalism to Minimalism was a landmark in the history of linguistics, and it was this book that established Chomsky as a leading figure in the field. The book was a response to the work of the British linguist J. R. Firth, who had argued that the meaning of a word is determined by its context. Chomsky argued that the meaning of a word is determined by its syntactic structure, and that the syntactic structure of a sentence is determined by its grammar. This book was a landmark in the history of linguistics, and it was this book that established Chomsky as a leading figure in the field.
