learning communities where students and educators are transforming themselves and society Local Civics with National Purpose J. Spencer Clark, 2021 This book examines the development of civic education in the United States through the lives of two teachers at Shortridge High School SHS in Indianapolis around 1900 After situating civic education at the turn of the century the book describes the career of Laura Donnan her influences teaching extracurriculars and civic life through the lens of her unique epistemology shaped by negotiating the gendered ideologies of her era Then the book re-examines Arthur W. Dunn's career focusing on his ten years at SHS and the influence of Donnan on his popular community civics curriculum and subsequently the 1916 report The Social Studies in Secondary Education Previous scholars have overlooked Dunn's time at SHS viewing it simply as a stepping stone for the progressive educator's career This book argues that Dunn's time at SHS was pivotal to his career due to influential colleagues primarily Donnan To conclude Clark discusses the implications of Donnan's epistemology in shaping civic education in the United States Civic Learning for Alienated, Disaffected and Disadvantaged Students Xiaoxue Kuang, Jinxin Zhu, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2023-09 In their journeys to engaged citizenship civic education is a right for all students helping them to become active and informed However for some students there are barriers to engagement It is these barriers that are dealt with in this book Civic education is a key component of the school curriculum irrespective of country and political system Ensuring that young people understand the political and social contexts of their country and indeed their planet is a key requirement in a rapidly changing and unpredictable world Providing access to civic learning therefore is a priority for schools and the societies in which they are embedded Yet for some students barriers exist which prevent a deep understanding of the requirements for full participation and engagement These students are neglected not only in schools but in research as well This book seeks to fill that gap by shining a light on the multiple disadvantages that many students suffer in seeking to exercise their rights as active and informed citizens The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Educational Psychology Promising Practices in Civic Education Donald Wittmer Robinson, 1967
