Time S Potential Power Parables 13:

Parables for Our Time Tania Oldenhage, 2010-04-10 Over the centuries New Testament texts have often been read in ways that reflect and encourage anti-Semitism. For example, the parable of the wicked husbandmen who kill the son of their landlord in order to seize the land has been used to blame the Jews for the death of Christ. Since the Holocaust, Christian scholars have increasingly recognized and rejected this inheritance. In Parables for Our Time, Tania Oldenhage seeks to fashion a biblical hermeneutics that consciously works with memories of the Holocaust. New Testament scholars have not directly confronted the horror of Nazi crimes, Oldenhage argues, but their work has nonetheless been deeply affected by the events of the Holocaust. By placing twentieth-century biblical scholarship within its specific historical and cultural contexts, she is able to trace the process by which the Holocaust gradually moved into the collective consciousness of New Testament scholars both in Germany and in the United States. Her focus is on the scholarly interpretation of the parables of Jesus. She sets the stage with the work of Wolfgang Harnisch, who exemplifies the problems surrounding Holocaust remembrance in the Germany of the 1980s and 1990s. She then turns to Joachim Jeremias's eminent work on the parables, first published in 1947. Jeremias's anti-Jewish rhetoric, she argues, should be understood not only as a perpetuation of an age-old interpretive pattern but as representative of German difficulties in responding to the Holocaust immediately after the war. Oldenhage goes on to explore the way in which Jeremias's approach was challenged by biblical scholars in the U.S. during the 1970s. In particular, she examines the turn to literature and literary theory exemplified in the works of John Dominic Crossan and Paul Ricoeur. Nazi atrocities became part of the cultural reservoir from which Crossan and Ricoeur drew; she shows, although they never engaged with the historical facts of the Holocaust. In conclusion, Oldenhage offers her own reading of the parable of the wicked husbandmen, demonstrating how the turn from historical to literary criticism opens up the text to interpretation in light of the Holocaust. If the parables are to be meaningful in our time, she contends, we must take account of the troubling resonances between these ancient Christian stories and the atrocities of Auschwitz.

Arbuckle,2013 How can Catholic leaders effectively train and form members of our institutions in the Gospel values that are the ultimate foundation of Catholic identities Internationally recognized author educator and facilitator Gerald A Arbuckle argues that it is time to acknowledge that the programs and processes used in the past are inadequate to our postmodern age The systems previously used to educate the staffs of our hospitals universities schools and other institutions rarely succeed today Although didactic teaching and discursive learning have their place they cannot be the primary method for forming identities Catholic Identity or Identities will assist a wide range of people bishops theologians pastoral workers institutional leaders and staffs and more in their various ministries Arbuckle draws on several disciplines including Scripture theology and history but in particular cultural anthropology to explain the importance of refounding adult formation for Catholic ministries and the practical ways to achieve it Reading Jesus' Parables with Dao De Jing Yung Suk Kim,2018-07-10 Dao De Jing is an ancient wisdom book purportedly written by Laozi who flourished in the sixth century BCE according to the Chinese tradition It is comprised of eighty one short poems of which the source is diverse ranging from personal life to communal and political life It uses abundant metaphors taken from nature such as water dust river wood and valley Laozi reminds his readers to rethink their worldview and purpose of life Parables of Jesus also are stories about life ranging from personal identity to social justice Laozi and Jesus lived in different places at different times Yet they share a passion and vision to make a better world full of mercy justice and peace Laozi asks his audience to appreciate the power of smallness in their perspectives Likewise in the Mustard Seed Jesus also helps his audience to see the potential of a small seed that may grow miraculously to several feet tall This book reads Jesus parables from the perspective of the Dao De Jing There is a new translation of the Dao De Jing in the Appendix The Authenticity of the Parable of the Wheat and the Tares and Its Interpretation Ramesh Khatry,2000-07 This thesis seeks to demonstrate the authenticity as dominical teaching of the parable of the darnel Mt 13 24 30 and its interpretation Mt 13 36 43 The interpretation in particular is almost universally regarded as non dominical notably by J Jeremias and his followers My thesis argues that the whole of Mt 13 36 43 and Mt 13 24 30 should be seen as dominical The introduction gives a brief survey of parabolic studies and outlines the case against the authenticity of Mt 13 24 30 36 43 Chapter AI defends the authenticity of the parable Mt 13 24 30 The following chapters do the same for the interpretation Mt 13 36 43 looking at the Son of Man and related teaching chapter BI the kingdom of God BII righteousness and lawlessness BIII and other motifs BIV and finally the question of the coherence of the parable and its interpretation BV My approach has been negatively to demonstrate the weakness of the scholarly arguments against authenticity and positively to offer a case for authenticity via a a study of background including special study of the rural Palestinian practices and of relevant Jewish theological ideas and b a careful use of the criterion of multiple attestation which demonstrates that our material is linguistically and theologically coherent with other well attested Jesus tradition The originality of the work lies apart from
