United Nations Arab Human Development Report:

Arab Human Development in the Twenty-first Century Bahgat Korany, 2014-10-01 With its emphasis on the primacy of change this study arrives at a particularly auspicious moment as the Middle East continues to be convulsed by the greatest upheavals in generations which have come to be known as the Arab Spring Originally prepared as the tenth anniversary volume of the UNDP's Arab Human Development Report Arab Human Development in the Twenty first Century places empowerment at the center of human development in the Arab world viewing it not only from the vantage point of a more equitable distribution of economic resources but also of fundamental legal educational and political reform The ten chapters in this book follow closely this political economy framework They look back at what Arab countries have achieved since the early 2000s and forward to what remains to be done to reach full development Supported by a wealth of statistical material they cover the rule of law the evolution of media the persistence of corruption the draining of resources through armed conflict the dominance and increase of poverty the environment and religious education The concluding chapter attempts an inventory of the world literature and different experiences on democratic transition to explore where the region could be heading This critical and timely study is indispensable reading to development specialists and to Middle East scholars and students alike as well as to anyone with an interest in the future trajectory of the region

Resources and Development in the Arabian Gulf The Emirates Center for Strategic Studies and Research, 2010-08-26 The six member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC have achieved substantial development progress in recent decades as is evidenced by their high rankings within the United Nations Development Programme's Human Development Index HDI Despite these achievements however the process of development in the GCC states still faces numerous challenges the most significant of which relate to national human resources Indeed it is fair to say that the success of ongoing development efforts in the GCC states will largely be decided by how they manage employ and develop their human capital This book comprises a valuable collection of the papers presented at the ECSSR 14th Annual Conference Human Resources and Development in the Arabian Gulf held in Abu Dhabi on February 2-4 2009 The papers contained herein represent a contemporary examination of the different development strategies available to the GCC states the challenges facing human resource development in the GCC countries the problems facing GCC labor markets opportunities and potential for investment in human capital the many obstacles to sustainable development in the Gulf and other relevant topics

Higher Education and Scientific Research in the Arabian Gulf States Abdellatif Sellami, Khalid Arar, Rania Sawalhi, 2022-11-29 This book takes a closer look at the relation between current issues and trends in higher education and scientific research in the Arab World and in the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC states of Qatar and United Arab Emirates UAE

This thoroughly researched text traces the development of higher education in the GCC area as it continues to be positioned in an intersection of international and local factors. The text further articulates the pivotal political and cultural influences that act as real and perceived barriers towards the advancement of key fields. The chapters analyze the current policy trends, structures and coping alternatives in addressing higher education challenges whilst also providing comparative first hand texts with the other Arab states in the region. By drawing focus on the GCC area, the text identifies the crucial factors that hamper learning and research performance. The book serves as an invaluable discussion on the implications for policy makers and HEIs in relation to the eponymous regions and other Arab states in the GCC area. Enhancing understanding of the scope, scale and complexity of higher education and scientific research in the GCC area, the book will be of interest to academics, researchers and post graduate students in the fields of educational policy, comparative and international education and higher education.

Coping with Uncertainty Joerg Gertel, Ralf Hexel, 2018-07-16 Seven years after the Arab uprisings, the social situation has deteriorated across the Middle East and North Africa. Political, economic and personal insecurities have expanded while income from oil declined and tourist revenues have collapsed due to political instability. Against a backdrop of escalating armed conflicts and disintegrating state structures, many have been forced from their homes, creating millions of internally displaced persons and refugees. Young people are often the ones hit hardest by the turmoil. How do they cope with these ongoing uncertainties and what drives them to pursue their own dreams in spite of these hardships? In this landmark volume, an international interdisciplinary team of researchers assess a survey of 9,000 sixteen to thirty year olds from Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco, Palestine, Syria, Tunisia and Yemen, resulting in the most comprehensive in depth study of young people in the MENA region to date. Given how rapidly events have moved in the Middle East and North Africa, the findings are in many regards unexpected.

The European Union and Human Rights Jan Wouters, Manfred Nowak, Anna-Luise Chané, Nicolas Hachez, 2020 This volume on the EU and human rights is based primarily on the findings of the FP7 FRAME project. Carried out by a consortium of universities and research centres, FRAME intended to provide an interdisciplinary knowledge base on EU human rights policies and their impact, producing at least 50 reports for the Commission.

Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally. Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth Assessment Report (AR4) of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media. This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large. The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Culture-on-Demand James Lull,2008-04-30 This highly original thought provoking book written by a pioneer of communication studies is the first to analyze the post 9 11 world in terms of global media and popular culture Written in an engaging and candid manner by a leading expert in this field Argues that cross cultural understanding can only be achieved by harnessing the power of global media popular culture information technology and personal communications technologies Examines the global trend of using film video music and TV on demand as the framework through which we experience all cultural activity Draws inspiration from the work of a range of theorists from Charles Darwin to Anthony Giddens Candidly interrogates the very latest developments in world affairs especially the roles of fundamentalist religious ideology media globalization and individualism whose complex relationships have yet to be explained by social scientists Environmental Politics in Egypt Jeannie Sowers,2013-06-26 Drawing on extensive fieldwork conducted in Egypt from the late 1990s to 2011 this book shows how experts and activists used distinctive approaches to influence state and firm decision making in three important environmental policy domains These include industrial pollution from large scale industry the conservation of threatened habitat and water management of the irrigation system These cases show how environmental networks sought to construct legal discursive and infrastructural forms of authority within the context of a fragmented state apparatus and a highly centralized political regime Managerial networks composed of environmental scientists technocrats and consultants sought to create new legal regimes for environmental protection and to frame environmental concerns so that they would appeal to central decision makers Activist networks in contrast emerged where environmental pollution or exclusion from natural resources threatened local livelihoods and public health These networks publicized their concerns and mobilized broader participation through the creative use of public space media coverage and strategic use of existing state sanctioned organizations With the increased popular mobilization of the 2000s and the mass protests of the 2011 revolution environmental politics has become highly topical Expert and activist networks alike have sought to broaden their appeal and diversify their approaches The result may well be a more contested participatory and dynamic phase in Egyptian environmentalism Rebuilding Devastated Economies in the Middle East L. Binder,2007-10-29 This book analyzes the political obstacles to economic recovery and the economic consequences of democratic political reforms The contributors focus on rulers of shaky states where civil strife has caused economic devastation If rebuilding requires regime change are we asking these governments to put themselves out of business Women in Executive Power Gretchen Bauer,Manon Tremblay,2011-03-10 A comprehensive regional study of women in the political executive power A Spring Aborted Yusuf M. Sidani,2019-10-09 The Arab Spring uprisings were not about gender these were uprisings demanding rights for all Yet they presented a rare opportunity for women to let themselves be heard And from being some of the most memorable and lasting leaders of these revolutionary protests female activists were particularly targeted by many regimes

The International Politics of Democratization Nuno Severiano Teixeira, 2008-06-30 Examines the international dimensions of democratization processes showing the degree to which international actors have an influence on what were once thought of as exclusively domestic processes of political change

Military Law Review , Demography and Democracy Elhum Haghighat, 2018-08-23 The Middle East and North Africa have recently experienced one of the highest population growth rates in the world something which has profoundly affected the wider region and its institutions In addition the recent period of unprecedented political turbulence has further complicated the picture resulting in uprisings and resistance movements that have coincided with intense shifts in socio cultural norms as well as economic and political change Through highlighting the links between population dynamics and the social and political transitions this book provides a new view of these recent regional changes The complexity of the changes is further explained in the context of demographic transitions mortality fertility migration that work hand in hand with development economic and social modernization and ultimately democratization political modernization These three Ds Demographic Development and Democratic transitions are central to Elhum Haghighat s analysis of the Middle East and North Africa at this crucial time

International Relations of the Middle East Louise L'Estrange Fawcett, 2016 Now in its fourth edition International Relations of the Middle East provides a thematic overview of the subject combining a history of the region with analysis of key themes actors and conflicts as well as topical material and perspectives

Composing Egypt Hoda A. Yousef, 2016-06-22 In this innovative history of reading and writing Hoda Yousef explores how the idea of literacy and its practices fundamentally altered the social fabric of Egypt at the turn of the twentieth century She traces how nationalists Islamic modernists bureaucrats journalists and early feminists sought to reform reading habits writing styles and the Arabic language itself in their hopes that the right kind of literacy practices would create the right kind of Egyptians The impact of new reading and writing practices went well beyond the elites and the newly literate of Egyptian society and this book reveals the increasingly ubiquitous reading and writing practices of literate illiterate and semi literate Egyptians alike Students who wrote petitions women who frequented scribes and communities who gathered to hear a newspaper read aloud all used various literacies to participate in social exchanges and civic negotiations regarding the most important issues of their day Composing Egypt illustrates how reading and writing practices became not only an object of social reform but also a central medium for public exchange Wide segments of society could engage with new ideas about nationalism education gender and ultimately what it meant to be part of modern Egypt

Arab Human Development Report 2009 United Nations Development Programme. Regional Bureau for Arab States, 2009 The Arab Human Development Report aims at building human development in the Arab world Gender inequality is generally recognized as one of the main obstacles to development in the Arab Region This volume of the report focuses on the history and contemporary dynamics of Arab women s economic political and social empowerment It details the processes in which gender impacts on Arab development while suggesting means of overcoming some of the challenges and building more equitable societies Artists and the Arab Uprisings

Lowell H. Schwartz,Dalia Dassa Kaye,Jeffrey Martini,2013-05-28 After decades of authoritarianism a wave of political change and unrest began to sweep across the Middle East and North Africa in early 2011 Successful democratic transitions will not be easy and will require change in multiple spheres This report focuses on one sphere whose power and importance is often underestimated the artistic arena Regional artists have the potential to positively contribute to democratic transition by shaping public debate in ways that support tolerance and nonviolence But Arab artists are often squeezed between the bounds of acceptable discourse set by rulers who fear freedom of expression and conservative societal groups that seek to control acceptable behavior Although the Arab uprisings lifted some previous barriers to artistic expression new limitations and challenges have emerged Moreover artists continue to lack sound funding models to support their work and face limited markets and distribution mechanisms This research explores the challenges posed by both the state and society in the region as well as the policy shifts that may be necessary to better support regional artists It also suggests new strategies in which regional actors and nongovernmental organizations take leading roles in supporting these artists and their work
