Dictionary of South Africa Christopher Saunders, Peter Limb, 2020-12-15 As the most influential and powerful country on the entire continent of Africa an understanding of South Africa's past and its present trends is crucial in appreciating where South Africans are going to and from where they have come South Africa changed dramatically in 1994 when apartheid was dismantled and it became a democratic state Since 2000 when the previous edition appeared further big changes occurred with the rise of new political leaders and of a new black middle class There were also serious problems in governance in public health and the economy but with a remarkable popular resilience too This third edition of Historical Dictionary of South Africa contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about South Africa

The PhD Experience in African Higher Education John Mashayamombe, Ruth Murambadoro, uMbuso weNkosi, 2022-11-08 The PhD Experience in African Higher Education edited by Ruth Murambadoro John Mashayamombe and uMbuso weNkosi addresses the growing call to invest in the humanities and social sciences by exploring the nature of doctoral training in select institutions of higher learning in South Africa In the past two decades South Africa has become a key player in the global higher education landscape and dubbed the hub for doctoral training in Africa because of its developed educational infrastructure and highly ranked universities Given South Africa's positioning the contributors in this volume argue that the government donors universities and faculty have a socio legal duty to ensure that doctoral programs in the humanities and social sciences are not offered to amass numbers of African graduates but are grounded on equipping students with both hard and soft skills necessary to succeed This is achieved by offering skills training and research apprenticeships fostered in communities of practice because as the contributors show the humanities and social sciences are the backbone of society Furthermore they argue that treating doctoral candidates as equal partners is emancipatory because intellectual projects are best nurtured through collaborative learning

The Palgrave Handbook of Ethics in Critical Research Catriona Ida Macleod, Jacqueline Marx, Phindezwa Mnyaka, Gareth J. Treharne, 2018-05-22 This handbook highlights the growing tensions surrounding the current dominant ethical clearance model which is increasingly being questioned particularly in critical research It draws on stories from the field in critical research conducted in a range of contexts and countries and on an array of topics The authors involved in this collection encountered dilemmas contradictions and surprises that brought about a change in their understanding of ethics Throughout the book they discuss how ethics is an ongoing and situated struggle that requires researchers at times to traverse traditional ethical imperatives Four sections lead readers through the complexities of grounded ethical practice encountering systems including Ethics Committees and institutions blurring boundaries within research the politics of voice anonymity and confidentiality and power relations in researching down up and alongside This handbook is a resource for social science researchers using critical methodologies across a range of disciplines as well as for students and teachers of ethics in navigating the quandaries of doing good while doing good research

Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa Hanne Kirstine Adriansen, Lene Møller Madsen, Stig Jensen, 2015-11-06 Higher education has recently been recognized as a key driver for societal growth in the Global South and capacity building of African universities is now widely included in donor policies The question is how do capacity building projects affect African universities researchers and students Universities and their scientific knowledges are often seen to have universal qualities therefore capacity building may appear straight forward Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa contests such universalistic notions Inspired by ideas about the geography of scientific knowledge it explores what role specific places and relationships have in knowledge production and analyses how cultural experiences are included and excluded in teaching and research Thus the different chapters show how what constitutes legitimate scientific knowledge is negotiated and contested In doing so the chapters draw on discussions about the hegemony of Western thought in education and knowledge production The authors own experiences with higher education capacity building and knowledge production are discussed and used to contribute to the reflexive turn and rise of auto ethnography This book is a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduate students in education development studies African studies and human geography as well as anthropology and history

The Oxford Handbook of Language and Society Ofelia García, Nelson Flores (Linguist), Massimiliano Spotti, 2017 This book challenges basic concepts that have informed the study of sociolinguistics It proposes a critical poststructuralist perspective that examines the socio historical context that led to the emergence of dominant sociolinguistic concepts and develops new theoretical and methodological tools that challenge these dominant concepts

Digital Inclusion Bruce Mutsaers, Massimo Ragnedda, 2018-08-15 The volume examines the risks and opportunities of a digital society characterized by the increasing importance of knowledge and by the incessant rise and pervasiveness of information and communication technologies ICTs At a global level the pivotal role of ICTs has made it necessary to rethink ways to avoid forms of digital exclusion or digital discrimination This edited collection comprises of chapters written by respected scholars from a variety of countries and brings together new scholarship addressing what the process of digital inclusion means for individuals and places in the countries analyzed Each country has its own strategy to guarantee that people can access and enjoy the benefits of the information society While this book does not presume to map all the countries in the world it does shed light into these strategies underlining what each country is doing in order to reduce digital inequalities and to guarantee that socially disadvantaged people in terms of disabilities availability of resources age geographic location lack of education or ethnicity are digitally included

A Social History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth Le Roux, 2015-10-14 In A History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth le Roux examines scholarly publishing history academic freedom and knowledge production during the apartheid era Using archival materials comprehensive bibliographies and political sociology theory this work analyses the origins publishing lists and philosophies of the university presses The university presses are often associated with anti apartheid publishing and the promotion of academic freedom but this work reveals both greater complicity and complexity Elizabeth le Roux demonstrates that the university presses cannot be considered oppositional because they did not resist censorship and because they operated within the constraints of the higher education system but their publishing strategies became more liberal over time

Going to University Case, Jennifer,Marshall, Delia,2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Understanding Global Cultures Martin J. Gannon,Rajnandini Pillai,2015-02-16 In the fully updated Sixth

Edition of Understanding Global Cultures Metaphorical Journeys Through 34 Nations Clusters of Nations Continents and Diversity authors Martin J Gannon and Rajnandini Pillai present the cultural metaphor as a method for understanding the cultural mindsets of individual nations clusters of nations continents and diversity in each nation A cultural metaphor is any activity phenomenon or institution that members of a given culture consider important and with which they identify emotionally and or cognitively such as the Japanese garden and American football This cultural metaphoric approach identifies three to eight unique or distinctive features of each cultural metaphor and then discusses 34 national cultures in terms of these features The book demonstrates how metaphors are guidelines to help outsiders quickly understand what members of a culture consider important

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Rethinking Judicial Power in Papua New Guinea Bal Kama, 2024-08-19 This book examines the role and nature of the judiciary in Papua New Guinea PNG the first comprehensive study since the country s independence in 1975 It challenges the traditional view of the judiciary as solely a legal entity arguing for its broader social and political functions Critiquing assumptions inherited from British and Australian colonial thinking it discusses how decolonisation has redefined judicial power enabling courts to have a more transformative role Introducing transformative constitutionalism into Australian Pacific legal thinking the book argues that PNG has a transformative constitution defined by its intent for reform extensive Charter of Rights and a liberal judiciary features not found in other Pacific constitutions Given the region s challenges such as corruption political instability and climate change the book advocates for a more proactive role for the judiciary It proposes a re evaluation of the classical tripartite doctrine of separation of powers advocating for a quadripartite model in PNG where the judiciary has a broader reformatory function and the independent constitutional institutions constitute a fourth arm of government This work makes important contributions to understandings of judicial power and constitutional law as well as other fields including comparative constitutional studies legal history and decolonial scholarship Museum Times Leslie Witz,2022-06-10

Museums flourished in post apartheid South Africa In older museums there were renovations on the go and at least fifty new museums opened Most sought to depict violence and suffering under apartheid and the growth of resistance These unlikely journeys are tracked as museums became a primary setting for contesting histories From the renowned Robben Island Museum to the almost unknown Lwandle Migrant Labour Museum the author demonstrates how an institution concerned with the conservation of the past is simultaneously a site for changing history Vienna 2019 - Encountering the Other: Within us, between us and in the world Emilija Kiehl,Jacqueline Egli, The XXI International Congress for Analytical Psychology was held in Vienna the birthplace of psychoanalysis It brought together an unprecedented number of participants from all over the world and from different fields of knowledge The theme Encountering the Other Within us between us and in the world a most relevant and urgent topic of the contemporary discourse among clinicians and academics alike was explored in a rich and diverse program of pre congress workshops master classes plenary and breakout presentations and posters The Proceedings are published as two volumes a printed edition of the plenary presentations and an e Book with the complete material presented at the Congress To professionals as well as the general public this collection of papers offers an inspiring insight into contemporary Jungian thinking from the classical to the latest research based scientific lens From the Contents Deifying the Soul from Ibn Arabi to C G Jung by Navid Kermani Apocalyptic Themes in Times of Trouble When Young Men are Deeply Alienated by Robert Tyminski Panel Encountering the Other Within Dream Research in Analytical Psychology and the Relationship of Ego and other Parts of the Psyche by Christian Roesler Yasuhiro Tanaka Tamar Kron Integration Versus Conflict Between Schools of Dream Theory and Dreamwork integrating the psychological core qualities of dreams with the contemporary knowledge of the dreaming brain by Ole Vedfelt Freud and Jung on Freud and Jung by Ernst Falzeder Opening the Closed Heart affect focused clinical work with the victims of early trauma by Donald E Kalsched The Other Between Fear and Desire countertransference fantasy as a bridge between me and the other by Daniela Eulert Fuchs Self Other and Individuation resolving narcissism through the lunar and solar paths of the Rosarium by Marcus West Encountering the Other Jungian Analysts and Traditional Healers in South Africa by Peter Ammann Fred Borchardt Nomfundo Lily Rose Mlisa Renee Ramsden From Horror to Ethical Responsibility Carl Gustav Jung and Stephen King encounter the dark half within us between us and in the world by Chiara Tozzi Like Family Ena Jansen,2019-04-01 An analytic and historical perspective of literary texts to understand the position of domestic workers in South Africa More than a million black South African women are domestic workers Precariously situated between urban and rural areas rich and poor white and black these women are at once intimately connected and at a distant remove from the families they serve Ena

Going to University. The Influence of Higher Education on the Lives of Young South Africans Jennifer Case, Delia Marshall, 2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ms Zubeida Jaffer ,Prof. Ylva Rodney-Gumede ,Dr Mvuso Ponono ,Prof. Colin Chasi ,2021-12-20 With 342 years of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa a book of this calibre is essential to contribute to scholarly debates on the decolonisation of the media After the democratic dispensation in 1994 there was a narrow pursuit of transformation and media freedom while neglecting decolonisation patriarchal tendencies and the plight of black women journalists who are often vilified while discharging their duties It was two decades after democracy that the RhodesMustFall movement which later evolved into FeesMustFall movement reignited debates on decoloniality in the academia Moreover the book is published during the second wave of FeesMustFall student protests and the demand for decolonised free education is inevitable as no permanent solution to student funding crisis was crafted In the same vein the book advocates for decolonised pedagogy in universities including journalism curriculum That ownership of the media is still skewed towards white and with only few black companies gradually joining the industry also brings into doubt media freedom editorial independence ethics and integrity among media practitioners Therefore the decoloniality movement seeks to confront these structural challenges head on via dialogue to ensure the integrity of the journalism profession Decolonising journalism in South Africa is published at a time in which journalism serves a watchdog and a critique of a democratic government and needs to follow a bottom up social justice approach and become a voice to the voiceless Therefore this book seeks to revolutionise the media in a way that even the language of reporting of certain issues needs to be changed to a balanced kind of reporting characterised by principles of no fear or favour
