Lifestyle, Biological Risk Factors for Non-Communicable Diseases in the Midst of Social Inequalities and COVID-19 Kotsedi Monyeki, Andre Pascal Kengne, Benedicta Ngwenchi Nkeh-Chungag, Han C. G. Kemper, 2023-07-31 The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, 2016-09-20 The publication provides the first comprehensive text that reflects on a century of the development of geography as an academic discipline at South African universities The book showcases a broad and textured review of South Africa s geography departments their staff members their times and the different Geographies they engaged in The book lays the foundation from which more expansive individual departmental histories can be written in the future Annual Report ... South Africa. Department of Higher Education and Training, 2016 Koedoe , 2005 Social Work in Social Change Nicci Earle, 2008 This study forms part of a series of studies on professions and professional education being conducted by the HSRC s research programme on Education Science Skills Development It follows a pilot study on medical doctors published in 2006 entitled Doctors in a Divided Society The profession and education of medical practitioners in South Africa Like the other studies in the series this study involved developing an understanding of the professional milieu and professional labour market of social workers As the implementers of government social policy social work professionals have been at the forefront of grappling with the practicalities of the changes in focus approach and methods of social security and social service delivery since 1994 It examines developments in the education and training of social workers within the democratic dispensation the most significant of which is the development of a national standardised Bachelor of Social Work degree The study also reveals that the dominant profile in student enrolment and graduation statistics has changed from white female to African female and that enrolment has increased significantly However the study also shows that graduation trends have been negative and losses due to emigration are an additional concern Given the scarcity of these professionals against the demand for their services understanding the factors that contribute to this picture are critical to effective intervention Doctoral Education in South Africa Nico Cloete, Johann Mouton, 2015-12-08 Worldwide in Africa and in South Africa the importance of the doctorate has increased disproportionately in relation to its share of the overall graduate output over the past decade This heightened attention has not only been concerned with the traditional role of the PhD namely the provision of future academics rather it has focused on the increasingly important role that higher education and particularly high level skills is perceived to play in national development and the knowledge economy This book is unique in the area of research into doctoral studies because it draws on a large number of studies conducted by the Centre of Higher Education Trust CHET and the Centre for Research on Evaluation Science and Technology CREST as well as on studies from the rest of Africa and the world In addition to the historical studies new quantitative and qualitative research was undertaken to produce the evidence base for the analyses presented in the book The findings presented in Doctoral Education in South Africa pose anew at least six tough policy questions that the country has struggled with since 1994 and continues to struggle with if it wishes to gear up the system to meet the target of 5 000 new doctorates a year by 2030 Discourses framed around the single imperatives of growth efficiency transformation or quality will not however generate the kind of policy discourses required to resolve these tough policy questions effectively What is needed is a change in approach that accommodates multiple imperatives and allows for these to be addressed simultaneously
