Community-based adaptation Hannah Reid, 2017-10-02 Community based adaptation CBA to climate change is based on local priorities needs knowledge and capacities Early CBA initiatives were generally implemented by non government organisations NGOs and operated primarily at the local level Many used bottom up participatory processes to identify the climate change problem and appropriate responses Small localised stand alone initiatives are insufficient to address the scale of challenges climate change will bring however The causes of vulnerability such as market or service access or good governance also often operate beyond the project level Larger organisations and national governments have therefore started to implement broader CBA programmes which provide opportunities to scale up responses and integrate CBA into higher levels of policy and planning This book shows that it is possible for CBA to remain centred on local priorities but not necessarily limited to work implemented at the local level Some chapters address the issue of mainstreaming CBA into government policy and planning processes or into city or sectoral level plans e g on agriculture Others look at how gender and children s issues should be mainstreamed into adaptation planning itself and others describe how tools can be applied and finance delivered for effective mainstreaming This book was published as a special issue of Climate and Development

Transforming Urban Food Systems in Secondary Cities in Africa Liam Riley,Jonathan Crush,2022-11-02 Countries across Africa are rapidly transitioning from rural to urban societies The UN projects that 60% of people living in Africa will be in urban areas by 2050 with the urban population on the continent tripling over the next 50 years The challenge of building inclusive and sustainable cities in the context of rapid urbanization is arguably the critical development issue of the 21st Century and creating food secure cities is key to promoting health prosperity equity and ecological sustainability The expansion of Africa s urban population is taking place largely in secondary cities these are broadly defined as cities with fewer than half a million people that are not national political or economic centres The implications of secondary urbanization have recently been described by the Cities Alliance as a real knowledge gap requiring much additional research not least because it poses new intellectual challenges for academic researchers and governance challenges for policy makers International researchers coming from multiple points of view including food studies urban studies and sustainability studies are starting to heed the call for further research into the implications for food security of rapidly growing secondary cities in Africa This book will combine this research and feature comparable case studies intersecting trends and shed light on broad concepts including governance sustainability health economic development and inclusivity This is an open access book

The Rights Track Todd Landman, Christine Garrington, 2022-07-12 The Rights Track Sound Evidence on Human Rights and Modern Slavery uses rich content from The Rights Track podcast www.rightstrack.org in an innovative book that enhances and enriches our understanding of the human rights challenges facing the world today This book showcases the important role of evidence in tackling those challenges and explores the medium of podcasting as a tool for discussing how research evidence is used to protect and promote human rights From counting torture victims to the joy of human rights from modern slavery to gay rights refugees to the radical right the authors draw new insights and intelligence from conversations between podcast host Landman and an array of experts and advocates who are leaders in their field Through close analysis of the voices and commentary of podcast guests from six series of the podcast the authors illustrate the enduring importance of human rights and the need to keep talking about them The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language Suresh

Canagarajah, 2017-02-03 Winner of AAAL Book Award 2020 Shortlisted for the BAAL Book Prize 2018 The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language is the first comprehensive survey of this area exploring language and human mobility in today's globalised world This key reference brings together a range of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary perspectives drawing on subjects such as migration studies geography philosophy sociology and anthropology Featuring over 30 chapters written by leading experts from around the world this book Examines how basic constructs such as community place language diversity identity nation state and social stratification are being retheorized in the context of human mobility Analyses the impact of the mobility turn on language use including the parallel multilingual turn and translanguaging Discusses the migration of skilled and unskilled workers different forms of displacement and new superdiverse and diaspora communities Explores new research orientations and methodologies such as mobile and participatory research multi sited ethnography and the mixing of research methods Investigates the place of language in citizenship educational policies employment and social services The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language is essential reading for those with an interest in migration studies language policy sociolinguistic research and development studies Fashioning the Afropolis

Kerstin Pinther, Kristin Kastner, Basile Ndjio, 2022-07-14 A revelation Reclaiming fashion from its European history Shane White With a focus on sub Saharan Africa Fashioning the Afropolis provides a range of innovative perspectives on global fashion design dress photography and the body in some of the major cities with a focus on Lagos Johannesburg Dakar and Douala It contributes to the ongoing debates around the globalization of fashion and fashion theory by exploring fashion as a genuine urban phenomenon on the continent and among its diasporas To date fashion and city have not been systematically related to each other in the African context and for too long a western centric gaze has dominated scholarship resulting in the perception of Africa as provincial and its visual arts and textile cultures as static and folkloristic This perspective is all the more distorted given Africa's rich sartorial past With a huge number of tailors ready to adapt and renew clothing reshaping garments into contemporary styles and many cities in Africa becoming hot spots for a steadily growing and well connected scene of fashion designers in the past 20 years the time is ripe for a reevaluation and reconsideration of the fashionscapes of Africa Leading scholars offer an updated empirical and theoretical foundation on which to base new and exciting research on sub Saharan fashion challenging perceptions and offering new insights The Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa: a commentary Celestine Nyamu Musembi , Trésor Muhindo Makunya, 2023-08-28 The first in a series of PULP commentaries on African human rights law under the series title PULP Commentaries on African human rights law Since its adoption on 11 July 2003 the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa the Maputo Protocol has become a landmark on the African human rights landscape It has steadily gained prominence as a trail blazing instrument responsive to the diverse realities of women on the African continent This comprehensive Commentary on the Maputo Protocol the first of its kind provides systematic analysis of each article of the Protocol delving into the drafting history and elaborating on relevant key concepts and normative standards This Commentary aims to be a one stop shop for anyone interested in the Maputo Protocol such as researchers teachers students practitioners policymakers and activists

Improving Early Literacy Outcomes Nic Spaull, John Comings, 2019-05-15 Learning to read and write for meaning and pleasure are arguably the two most important competences that children acquire in primary school Yet in 2019 more than one half of children worldwide do not reach this first rung on the literacy ladder Improving Early Literacy Outcomes aims to address this head on by foregrounding the work of more than 40 researchers most of them living in and working on developing countries Their contributions illuminate magnify and discover anew the importance of improving early reading through precise alignment of curriculum teaching and assessment and with a special focus on some of the most under studied countries in the world e g Burkina Faso Niger and Senegal Through probing analyses of research policy and practice the book highlights the common experiences of high aspirations repeatedly confronting harsh realities Sixteen interconnected chapters cast an ever vigilant and deflationary eye on the temptation to take an unrealistic approach to early literacy and also caution against lumping all languages contexts and policy challenges into a single heap This book provides an indispensable guide to policymakers practitioners educators and academics working towards the realisation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Improving the teaching learning and assessment of early grade literacy is key not only to expanding the quality access and equity of education but also to unlocking all the other SDGs and ultimately to driving development

Rule of Law, Human Rights and Judicial Control of Power Rainer Arnold, José Ignacio Martínez-Estay, 2017-05-16 Judicial control of public power ensures a guarantee of the rule of law This book addresses the scope and limits of judicial control at the national level i e the control of public authorities and at the supranational level i e the control of States It explores the risk of judicial review leading to judicial activism that can threaten the principle of the separation of powers or the legitimate exercise of state powers It analyzes how national and supranational legal systems have embodied certain mechanisms such as the principles of reasonableness proportionality deference and margin of appreciation as well as the horizontal effects of human rights that help to determine how far a judge can go Taking a theoretical and comparative view the book first examines the conceptual bases of the various control systems and then studies the models structural elements and functions of the control instruments in selected countries and regions It uses country and regional reports as the basis for the comparison of the convergences and divergences of the implementation of control in certain countries of Europe Latin America and Africa The book's theoretical reflections and comparative investigations provide answers to important questions such as whether or not there are nascent universal principles concerning the control of public power how strong the impact of particular legal traditions is and to what extent international law concepts have had harmonizing and strengthening effects on internal public power control
