Emerging Technologies and International

Stability Todd S. Sechser,Neil Narang,Caitlin Talmadge,2021-11-28 Technology has always played a central role in international politics it shapes the ways states fight during wartime and compete during peacetime Today rapid advancements have contributed to a widespread sense that the world is again on the precipice of a new technological era Emerging technologies have inspired much speculative commentary but academic scholarship can improve the discussion with disciplined theory building and rigorous empirics This book aims to contribute to the debate by exploring the role of technology both military and non military in shaping international security Specifically the contributors to this edited volume aim to generate new theoretical insights into the relationship between technology and strategic stability test them with sound empirical methods and derive their implications for the coming technological age This book is very novel in its approach It covers a wide range of technologies both old and new rather than emphasizing a single technology Furthermore this volume looks at how new technologies might affect the broader dynamics of the international system rather than limiting the focus to a stability The contributions to this volume walk readers through the likely effects of emerging technologies at each phase of the conflict process The chapters begin with competition in peacetime move to deterrence and coercion and then explore the dynamics of crises the outbreak of conflict and war escalation in an environment of emerging technologies The chapters in this book except for the Introduction and the Conclusion were originally published in the Journal of Strategic Studies

Building School 2.0 Chris Lehmann,Zac Chase,2015-07-31 Ninety five propositions for creating more relevant more caring schools There is a growing desire to reexamine education and learning Educators use the phrase school 2 0 to think about what schools will look like in the future Moving beyond a basic examination of using technology for classroom instruction Building School 2 0 How to Create the Schools We Need is a larger discussion of how education learning and our physical school spaces can and should change because of the changing nature of our lives brought on by these technologies Well known for their work in creating Science Leadership Academy SLA a technology rich collaborative learner centric school in Philadelphia founding principal Chris Lehmann and former SLA teacher Zac Chase are uniquely qualified to write about changing how we educate The best strategies they contend enable networked learning that allows research creativity communication and collaboration to help prepare students to be functional citizens within a modern society Their model includes discussions of the following key concepts Technology must be ubiquitous necessary and invisible Classrooms must be learner centric and use backwards design principles Good technology can be better than new technology Teachers must serve as mentors and bring real world experiences to students Each section of Building School 2 0 presents a thesis designed
