3D Printing: Application in Medical Surgery E-Book Georgios

Tsouflias, Petros I. Bangeas, Jasjit S. Suri, 2019-11-28. Recent advances and technologies in 3D printing have improved and expanded applications for surgery, biomedical engineering and nanotechnology. In this concise new title, Drs Georgios Tsouflias, Petros I. Bangeas and Jasjit S. Suri synthesize state-of-the-art information on 3D printing and provide guidance on the optimal application in today's surgical practice from evaluation of the technology to virtual reality and future opportunities. Discusses challenges, opportunities and limitations of 3D printing in the field of surgery. Covers patient and surgical education, ethics and intellectual property, quality and safety of 3D printing as it relates to nanotechnology, tissue engineering, virtual augmented reality and more. Consolidates today's available information on this burgeoning topic into a single, convenient resource.

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, The Urban Ecologies of Divided Cities Amira Osman, John Nagle, Sabyasachi Tripathi, 2023-06-12. The book discusses how division affects the fabric of cities and people's sense of identity and agency and are reflected in physical features, architecture and urban planning. The question of divided cities represents a complex and multistranded urban ecology at once both social and spatial; it cannot be limited to a single science or discipline such as social or spatial fields. This suggests integrated and cross-disciplinary understandings as well as integrated or parallel approaches and solutions. Urban ecologies of division manifest in multiple forms. One of their most palpable expressions is conflict with parallels around the world and often with correlations in the spatial fabric. Violence in such contexts is often a surface expression of deeper socio-economic or ideological differences. Whether as a result of intervention by authority or by dissent between groups, a divided city inevitably becomes a place of conflict in various forms and intensity, eroding the joy of living and sense of collective belonging to the detriment of all. In effect, it erodes the collective advantage of being part of a more unified society. A city exists in collections of social structures which mutually form a society. A divided city implies divided social structures and in consequence a divided society. The papers compiled in this book present many case studies of divided cities, discussing the different causes of divisions and their effects on societies. Some of the causes can be linked to conflicts, wars, colonialism or legislative political systems. In response to the serious challenges resulting from these divisions, the book aims to provide opportunities for new approaches and possibilities for new interventions and solutions, making it significant to urban planners, architects and policymakers.

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul,Case, Jennifer M.,2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues Household Hazardous Waste Management Daniel Mmereki,2017-02-01

Rapid global urbanization and increases in living standards in recent decades have led to changes in the household hazardous waste HHW generation characteristics due to increases in buying power and easier access to products that are convenient but not always safe In recent years the amount of diversified hazardous materials and or potentially hazardous materials such as cleaning products medicines personal care products packaging and container products phthalates and antibacterial agents poses a serious threat to the environment and public health As a result developed countries have adopted well functioning policy measures and innovative technologies to deal with HHW On the other hand developing countries have weak institutional structures and poor policy performance and have adopted ad hoc approaches to manage HHW The book contains five chapters covering topics of household hazardous waste management and exposure assessment This book will be useful to many research scientists solid and hazardous waste managers administrators librarians and students in the scope of development in solid and hazardous waste management program including sources of household hazardous waste exposure assessment and government policies on waste generation and treatment and processing of HHW

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education      Fetal and Neonatal Surgery and Medicine Timothy M.
