The Politics of Truth and Reconciliation in South Africa Richard Wilson, 2001-05-02 The South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC was set up to deal with the human rights violations of apartheid during the years 1960 1994 However as Wilson shows the TRC s restorative justice approach to healing the nation did not always serve the needs of communities at a local level Based on extended anthropological fieldwork this book illustrates the impact of the TRC in urban African communities in Johannesburg While a religious constituency largely embraced the commission s religious redemptive language of reconciliation Wilson argues that the TRC had little effect on popular ideas of justice as retribution This provocative study deepens our understanding of post apartheid South Africa and the use of human rights discourse It ends on a call for more cautious and realistic expectations about what human rights institutions can achieve in democratizing countries
