Reading Problems Joyce Holt Jennings, JoAnne Schudt Caldwell, Janet W. Lerner, 2006 Would the world be a better place if human societies were somehow able to curb their desires for material goods Saleem Ali s pioneering book links human wants and needs by providing a natural history of consumption and materialism with scientific detail and humanistic nuance It argues that simply disavowing consumption of materials is not likely to help in planning for a resource scarce future given global inequality development imperatives and our goals for a democratic global society Rather than suppress the creativity and desire to discover that is often embedded in the exploration and production of material goods which he calls the treasure impulse Ali proposes a new environmental paradigm one that accepts our need to consume treasure for cultural and developmental reasons but warns of our concomitant need to conserve In evaluating the impact of treasure consumption on resource rich countries he argues that there is a way to consume responsibly and alleviate global poverty

Teaching Students with Mild and High-incidence Disabilities at the Secondary Level Edward James Sabornie, Laurie Ungerleider DeBettencourt, 2004 Focusing on the needs of secondary level learners with common disabilities a group often neglected by other books on the market Teaching Students with Mild and High Incidence Disabilities at the Secondary Level presents numerous research proven instructional methods and strategies It thoroughly examines the methods that are effective across the board as well as methods specific to particular challenges The authors address special education theory and relevant research in simple straightforward language that uses minimal jargon making concepts accessible and understandable to all Using case studies to show actual instruction as it happens this book gives readers a realistic portrait of today s diverse student population Coverage includes special education and adolescence instruction methods and current and future instructional issues An obvious resource for special education teachers this book is also an excellent guide for all educators as it provides information about assessment and curriculum planning

Assessment in Special Education Roger Pierangelo, George A. Giuliani, 2006 This text presents a uniquely practical approach to the topic of Assessment in Special Education The authors organize the material into a real world story by having each part and chapter of the book reflect the linear chronology of the assessment process used in schools Unlike other books this book is organized chronologically to present the overall process in a straight line a practical and useful pedagogy in itself for the novice teacher The text provides the practical tools necessary for a new teacher to understand the process of assessment in schools and then learn how to put it all together It provides future special educators comprehensive coverage of the latest tests and evaluation procedures for all areas of exceptionality for every age group for students with mild moderate and severe disabilities
