In one of Christie's Hercule Poirot novels, the famous detective finds out that Emily was of great wealth, providing a very likely motive for murder. John Cavendish, according to Emily's will, is the one who will receive the majority stake in the manor, so at first, this points the suspecting finger at him. However, it is said that on the day of the murder, Emily had argued with John and Alfred and changed her will. No one can find any evidence that such a newly created will even exists.
