

→ Write the Body Paragraphs

The body paragraphs are where you will present your main arguments and evidence to support your thesis statement. Here are some tips for writing effective body paragraphs:

1. Start with a topic sentence:

Each paragraph should start with a topic sentence that clearly states the main point of the paragraph. This will help to guide your reader and keep your argument focused.

The topic sentence is the first sentence of each body paragraph, and it should clearly state the main point of that paragraph. Here are some tips for writing effective topic sentences:

- Be clear and concise: Your topic sentence should be clear and concise, and it should make your point immediately. Avoid using vague or ambiguous language, and be as specific as possible.
- Connect to your thesis statement: Your topic sentence should relate directly to your thesis statement, and it should support the argument you are making. Make sure there is a clear connection between your thesis statement and your topic sentence.
- Preview your evidence: Your topic sentence should give your reader a preview of the evidence you will use to support your argument. This will help to guide your reader and keep your argument focused.
- Use active voice: Using active voice in your topic sentence can help to make it more engaging and powerful. For example, instead of saying "The book was read by me," say "I read the book."
- Be original: Your topic sentence should be original and creative, and it should grab your reader's attention. Don't use clichés or overused phrases, as this can make your essay feel boring and unoriginal.

Remember, the topic sentence is the first impression your reader will have of each body paragraph, so it's important to make it strong and effective. By being clear and concise, connecting to your thesis statement, previewing your evidence, using active voice, and being original, you can create topic sentences that support your argument and engage your reader.
