The Bioarchaeology of Ritual and Religion Alexandra Livarda, Richard Madgwick, Santiago Riera Mora, 2017-12-21 The Bioarchaeology of Ritual and Religion is the first volume dedicated to exploring ritual and religious practice in past societies from a variety of environmental remains Building on recent debates surrounding for instance performance materiality and the false dichotomy between ritualistic and secular behavior this book investigates notions of ritual and religion through the lens of perishable material culture Research centering on bioarchaeological evidence and drawing on methods from archaeological science has traditionally focused on functional questions surrounding environment and economy However recent years have seen an increased recognition of the under exploited potential for scientific data to provide detailed information relating to ritual and religious practice This volume explores the diverse roles of plant animal and other organic remains in ritual and religion as foods offerings sensory or healing mediums grave goods and worked artifacts It also provides insights into how archaeological science can shed light on the reconstruction of ritual processes and the framing of rituals The 14 papers showcase current and new approaches in the investigation of bioarchaeological evidence for elucidating complex social issues and worldviews The case studies are intentionally broad encompassing a range of sub disciplines of bioarchaeology including archaeobotany anthracology palynology micromorphology geoarchaeology zooarchaeology including avian and worked bone studies archaeomalacology and organic residue analysis The temporal and geographical coverage is equally wide extending across Europe from the Mediterranean and Aegean to the Baltic and North Atlantic regions and from the Mesolithic to the medieval period The volume also includes a discursive paper by Prof Brian Hayden who suggests a different interpretative framework of archaeological contexts and rituals Interdisciplinary Investigations of the Boott Mills, Lowell, Massachusetts Mary Carolyn Beaudry, Stephen A. Mrozowski, 1987

Gender Violence in the American Southwest (AD 1100-1300) Debra L. Martin, Clair Ralston, 2022-11-28 This volume uses osteobiography and individual level analyses of burials retrieved from the La Plata River Valley New Mexico to illustrate the variety of roles that Ancestral Pueblo women played in the past circa AD 1100 1300 The experiences of women as a result of their gender age and status over the life course are reconstructed with consideration given to the gendered forms of violence they were subject to and the consequences of social violence on health The authors demonstrate the utility of a modern bioarchaeological approach that combines social theories about gender and violence with burial data in conjunction with information from many other sources including archaeological reconstruction of homes and communities ethnohistoric resources available on Pueblo society and Pueblo women s contemporary voices This analysis presents a more accurate nuanced and complex picture of life in the past for mothers sisters wives and captives Nature, 1890

Tangatatau Rockshelter Patrick Vinton Kirch, 2017-12-31 Tangatatau Rockshelter on Mangaia Island in the Southern Cook Islands excavated by a multidisciplinary team in 1989 1991 produced one of the richest stratigraphic sequences of artifacts faunal assemblages and archaeobotanical materials in Eastern Polynesia More than seventy radiocarbon dates provide a tight chronology from AD 1000 to European contact in about 1800 The faunal assemblage provides compelling evidence for dramatic reductions in indigenous bird life following Polynesian colonization one of the best documented cases for human induced impacts on island biota Tangatatau is unique among Polynesian archaeological sites in the extent to which fishing was dominated by freshwater fishes and eels The site also yielded an extensive suite of carbonized plant materials including sweet potato tubers demonstrating that this South American domesticate had reached Eastern Polynesia by AD 1400 Mangaia illustrates the often far reaching consequences of human land use and resource exploitation on small and vulnerable islands
