Paper-based Diagnostics Kevin J. Land, 2018-12-11 This book explores the status of paper based diagnostic solutions or Microfluidics 2.0. The contributors explore how paper based tests can be widely distributed and utilized by semi skilled personnel how close to commercial applications the technology has become and what is still required to make paper based diagnostics the game changer it can be. The technology is examined through the lens of the World Health Organization's ASSURED criteria for low resource countries: Affordable, Sensitive, Specific, User friendly, Rapid and robust, Equipment free and Deliverable to end users. Its applications have to include health technology, environmental technology, food safety and more. This book is appropriate for researchers in these areas as well as those interested in microfluidics and includes chapters dedicated to principles such as theory of flow and surface treatments, components such as biomarkers and detection and current methods of manufacturing. Discusses how paper based diagnostics can be used in developing countries by comparing current diagnostic tests with the World Health Organization's ASSURED criteria. Examines how paper based diagnostics could be integrated with other technologies such as printed electronics and the Internet of Things. Outlines how semi skilled personnel across a variety of fields can implement paper based diagnostics. Redefining Education and Development Kaitano Dube, 2024-10-18 The book aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) particularly Goal 4 which focuses on quality education. It explores the evolving role of education as a critical driver for achieving all 17 SDGs by providing a platform for discussing innovative educational models and theories that foster sustainable development. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach merging educational theory, developmental practice and human psychology to address complex global challenges hindering sustainable development. The book includes case studies and empirical research such as exploring student entrepreneurship in the agricultural sector and the factors bridging the gap between entrepreneurial intention and venture creation. These examples provide readers with practical applications of theoretical concepts and demonstrate the real world impact of educational innovations which is at the core of education delivery for all and how education touches on other areas of the SDGs. The book offers valuable insights for policymakers, educators and development practitioners by presenting research and theory based analyses. It suggests ways to improve the academic environment to foster entrepreneurship and innovation which are key to economic development and job creation especially in regions with high youth unemployment rates. The content suggests educational reforms that are responsive to the changing societal and economic landscapes. The book's blend of theory and practice targets a broad audience including academic scholars, students, development agencies, non governmental organisations and policymakers. It seeks to engage these diverse readers in a conversation about the future of education and its role in achieving sustainable development. In summary, the book seeks to provide a comprehensive exploration of the nexus between education, development and human needs in the context of the SDGs, offering innovative perspectives and practical solutions to equip readers to contribute to
