

Year 10 English: Writing: Writing a Report

Introduction: Introduce the topic of your report. State the purpose of your report and the scope of your research. Provide background information on the topic.	Body: Present the main points of your report. Use evidence from your research to support your arguments. Organize your points into paragraphs, using topic sentences and linking words. Use headings and subheadings to structure your report.	Conclusion: Summarize the main points of your report. State your findings and conclusions. Provide a final statement on the topic.
References: List the sources of information you used in your report. Use a standard referencing system (e.g., APA, MLA, Chicago).
Appendix: Include any additional information that supports your report, such as tables, graphs, or photographs.

Task: Write a report on the topic of 'The Impact of Climate Change on the Environment'. Your report should include an introduction, a body with at least three paragraphs, and a conclusion. Use evidence from your research to support your arguments. Organize your points into paragraphs, using topic sentences and linking words. Use headings and subheadings to structure your report. Include a references section and an appendix with any additional information that supports your report.

Assessment: Your report will be assessed on the following criteria:

- Content: The quality and relevance of the information you provide.
- Structure: The organization and flow of your report.
- Style: The clarity and accuracy of your writing.
- References: The quality and quantity of the sources you use.

Example: The impact of climate change on the environment is a global issue that has received significant attention in recent years. This report will explore the various ways in which climate change is affecting the environment, including rising sea levels, extreme weather events, and the loss of biodiversity. It will also discuss the potential consequences of these changes and the steps that can be taken to mitigate their impact.

Teaching and Learning in the Science Laboratory Dimitris Psillos,H. Niedderer,2006-05-05 Scope of the book There is an on going debate regarding the role of labwork in science education which dates back several decades and which illustrates the conviction and interest of teachers researchers and policy makers world wide in the value of laboratory work for understanding science This is evident in more recent books and studies regarding the laboratory which mainly refer to countries with a considerable tradition in practical work in science education Woolnough Alsop 1985 Hodson 1993 Hegarthy Hazel 1990 Wellington 2000 Yet in discussing research studies on labwork several authors express their concern about its effectiveness in facilitating students understanding of various aspects of scientific inquiry They point out a comprehensive re conceptualisation of the aims of labwork and as a consequence of investigating what the students actually learn in different contexts Lazarowitz Tamir 1994 Tobin Tippins 1993 Lunetta 1998 It has also been argued that the relationship between instructional activities and student learning in labwork needs more attention than it has been given in science education research Leach Paulsen 1999 It appears that the case for research based labwork emerges in several quarters in science education particularly among researchers This book presents and discusses a variety of laboratory practices and their effectiveness The studies take into account recent theoretical developments and empirical results concerning students understanding of scientific inquiry A whole chapter is devoted to technological advances offering new learning opportunities for the students and teaching facilities for the teacher Me n Mine-Science-Term-1 Saraswati Experts, A text book on science
