Field Archaeology from Around the World Martin Carver,Bisserka Gaydarska,Sandra Montón-Subías,2014-11-26 Field practice in archaeology varies greatly throughout the world mainly because archaeological sites survive in very different ways in different counties Many manuals see this as a problem to be defeated by the imposition of standardised procedures In this book we relish the variety of field practice seeing it rather as the way the best archaeologists have responded creatively to the challenges of terrain research objectives and the communities within which they work While insisting on the highest levels of investigation we celebrate the different designs concepts scientific detection methods and recording systems applied so embracing standards but not standardisation The book is organised in four parts Part 1 offers a summary of field procedures Part 2 reviews the principal methods applied above and below ground and how the results are analysed Part 3 illustrates the huge variety confronted by field workers with a series of exemplary commercial and academic projects enacted in downland jungle desert permafrost road schemes and towns Approaches also differ according to the traditional methodologies that have evolved in particular countries In Part 4 we give examples of some the strongest and oldest of those practised on four continents
