(ed), Mafongoya, P.L. (ed), 2017-11-15. Climate change presents a profound challenge to food security and sustainable development in Africa. Its negative impacts are likely to be greatest in the African region, which is already food insecure. In the face of global climate change and its emerging challenges and unknowns, it is essential that decision makers base policies on the best available knowledge. In recent years, the knowledge of local and indigenous people, often referred to as indigenous knowledge (IK), has been increasingly recognised as an important source of climate knowledge and adaptation strategies. ICEL 2018 13th International Conference on e-Learning Professor Eunice Ivala, 2018-07-05. The Statesman's Yearbook 2024 Palgrave Macmillan, 2024-01-03. Now in its 160th edition, The Statesman's Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world. Covering political, economic, social, and cultural aspects, the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions. Designing Worlds Kjetil Fallan, Grace Lees-Maffei, 2016-06. From consumer products to architecture to advertising to digital technology, design is an undeniably global phenomenon. Yet despite their professed transnational perspective, historical studies of design have all too often succumbed to a bias toward Western industrialized nations. This diverse but rigorously curated collection recalibrates our understanding of design history, reassessing regional and national cultures while situating them within an international context. Here, contributors from five continents offer nuanced studies that range from South Africa to the Czech Republic, all the while sensitive to the complexities of local variation and the role of nation-states in identity construction. Application for Admission North Carolina State College.
