Turflop University Application Form 2015:

The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, Ronnie Donaldson, Cecil Seethal, 2016-09-20 Sustainable Management of Soil and Environment Ram Swaroop Meena, Sandeep

Kumar, Jitendra Singh Bohra, Mangi Lal Jat, 2019-10-02 Fertilizers have been used extensively around the globe since the Green Revolution due to the high subsidies. However, extensive fertilizer use exacerbates soil degradation and causes yield stagnation and as a result threatens food security and soil sustainability especially in developing countries. This means that sustainable soil and environmental management are vital to provide food and nutritional security for present and future generations. This has led to the International Union of Soil Science (IUSS) declaring 2015-2024 the International Decade of Soils. This book focuses on the impact of sustainable management of soil and environment on improving the functioning of soil ecosystems and agronomic productivity and also discusses food security, nutrient cycling, recent advances in INM technologies, eco-friendly cultivation, agricultural practices to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions as well as conservation agriculture and its effects and strategies for soil sustainability. Offering a comprehensive overview of management in the context of the sustainability of soil and the agroecosystems that it supports, it demonstrates the options available and provides insights into restoring soil health and matching soil nutrient supply with crop demand to ensure nutritional security in an eco-friendly environment. Land Reform in South Africa Brent McCusker, William G. Moseley, Maano

Ramutsindela, 2015-11-05 This thoughtful book explores the history and ongoing dilemmas of land use and land reform in South Africa. Including both theoretical and applied examples of the evolution of South Africa's current geography of land use, the authors provide a succinct overview of land reform and evaluate the range of policies conceived over time to redress the country's stark racial land imbalance. Drawing on compelling case studies from across South Africa, they illustrate not only the progress of land reform but also how reforms fit within the larger historical context of racialized land use. This is the first book of its kind to fully apply geographical theory to the case of South African land reform. Rather than rely on one-dimensional technicist explanations to discuss the shortcomings of the country's land reform program, this rich study places it in the context of bitter battles between groups seeking to exploit land policies for their own benefit. The Road to Soweto mergers between two or more universities After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances the book falls into two main parts Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France Sweden Romania Russia Wales and England and specific cross cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France UK Romania Spain Germany Denmark Finland Switzerland A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain

The Global Financial and Economic Crisis in the South Luis Leon-Manriquez, Theresa Moyo, 2015-12-29 This book is the outcome of a South South conference jointly organized by the Asian Political and International Studies Association APISA the Latin American Council of Social Sciences CLACSO and the Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa CODESRIA in Dakar Senegal May 2012 The conference was organised in response to the financial crisis of 2008 which started in the United States and Europe with reverberating effects on a global scale Economic problems emanating from such crises usually leave major social and structural impacts on important sectors of the society internationally They affect living standards and constrain the well being of people especially in poor countries Persistent problems include high unemployment increased debt and low growth in developed countries as well as greater difficulties in accessing finance for investment in the developing world There is a need for countries in the South to examine the available options for appropriate national and regional responses to the different problems emanating from the economic crisis This book attempts to provide ideas on some strategic responses to the disastrous impact of the crisis while keeping in mind the global common interest of the South It is hoped that the book will contribute significantly towards the agenda to rethink development and the quest for alternative paradigms for a just stable and equitable global political economic and social system A system in which Africa Asia and Latin America are emancipated from the shackles of hegemonic and anachronistic neoliberal dictates that have nothing more to offer than crises vulnerabilities and dependency

Trade and Industrial Development in Africa Moyo, Theresa, 2015-03-02 This book revisits the perennial challenge that scholars economists and politicians have been grappling with since the 1960s Development in this book has been defined in a context that projects it as a multidimensional and complex process which seeks to enhance the human social economic and cultural welfare of the people This book calls for a rethinking of trade and industry for Africa s development It uses data drawn from national development plans and strategies and trade and industry issues have been prioritized at the continental level in key policy documents On the whole Africa s industry and trade performance have been poor in spite of national regional and continental plans The contributors to this volume propose some alternative strategies and policies which are necessary for trade and industry to grow and to contribute to the well being of Africa s people It calls for a developmental trade and industry policy which fundamentally must be people centred African states should invest time energy and resources to develop policies which will take into consideration African realities The different contributors are aware that Africa has experienced strong economic growth in the recent past but this growth has largely been due to a strong demand for Africa s primary commodity exports It has also been a result of increases in productivity and domestic investment and remittances from Africans living in the Diaspora It is important to note that despite this unprecedented growth performance the impact of trade and industry on development has been limited The book argues that a structural transformation of Africa s economies is inevitable if Africa is to achieve the shift from the dominant paradigm of production and export of primary goods The various contributors to this book agree that there is need to rethink policy and strategy in order to achieve industrial development in Africa There is no unique solution or answer that can fit all situations as African countries are not the same While Africa can draw lessons from other regions which have successfully industrialized this book argues that policies and strategies will have to be adapted to country specific situations and circumstances

Pan-Africanism: Political Philosophy and Socio-Economic Anthropology for African Liberation and Governance Kini-Yen Kinni, 2015-09-23 This Book is the outcome of a long project begun thirty years ago It is a book on the makings of pan Africanism through the predicaments of being black in a world dominated by being white The book is a tribute and celebration of the efforts of the African American and African Caribbean Diaspora who took the initiative and the audacity to fight and liberate themselves from the shackles of slavery It is also a celebration of those Africans who in their own way carried the torch of inspiration and resilience to save and reconstruct the Free Humanism of Africa As a story of the rise from the shackles of slavery and poverty to the summit of Victors of their Renaissance Identity and Self Determination as a People the book is the story of African refusal to celebrate victimhood The book also situates women as central actors in the Pan African project which is often presented as an exclusively masculine endeavour It introduces a balanced gender approach and diagnosis of the Women actors of Pan Africanism which was very much lacking The problem of balkanisation of Africa on post colonial affiliations and colonial linguistic lines has taken its toll on Africas building of its common identity and personality The result is that Africans are more remote to each other in their pigeon hole nation states which put more restrictions for African inter mobility coupled by education and cultural affiliations the communication and transportation and trading networks which are still tied more to their colonial masters than among themselves This book looks into the problem of the new wave of Pan Africanism and what strategies that can be proposed for a more participatory Pan Africanism inspired by the everyday realities of African masses at home and in the diaspora This book is the first book of its kind that gives a comprehensive and multidimensional coverage of Pan Africanism It is a very timely and vital compendium Biko's
