

1-8 GENERAL INFORMATION, SAFETY AND TOOLS

Fig. 7 Type II PFDs are recommended for inshore-inland use on calm water (where there is a good chance of fast rescue).

Fig. 8 Type IV buoyant cushions are thrown to people in the water. If you can squeeze air out of the cushion, it should be replaced.

Fig. 9 Type IV throwables, such as this ring life buoy, are not designed for unconscious people, non-swimmers, or children.

Even though it may not be required, the wearing of a hybrid or a life jacket is encouraged whenever a vessel is underway. Like life jackets, hybrids are now available in three types. To meet legal requirements, a Type I hybrid can be substituted for a Type I life jacket. Similarly, Type II and III hybrids can be substituted for Type II and Type III life jackets. A Type I hybrid, when inflated, will turn most unconscious people from face-down to vertical or slightly backward positions just like a Type I life jacket. Type II and III hybrids function like Type II and III life jackets. If you purchase a new hybrid, it should have an owner's manual attached that describes its life jacket type and its deflated and inflated buoyancies. It warns you that it may have to be inflated to float you. The manual also tells you how to open the life jacket and how to inflate it. It also tells you how to change its inflation mechanism, recommended testing exercises, and inspection or maintenance procedures. The manual also tells you why you need a life jacket and why you should wear it. A new hybrid must be packaged with at least three gas cartridges. One of these may already be loaded into the inflation mechanism. Likewise, if it has an automatic inflation mechanism, it must be packaged with at least three of these water sensitive elements. One of these elements may be installed.

Legal Requirements

A Coast Guard approved life jacket must show the manufacturer's name and approval number. Most are marked as Type I, II, III, IV or V. All of the newer hybrids are marked for type.

You are required to carry at least one wearable life jacket or hybrid for each person on board your recreational vessel. If your vessel is 16 feet or more in length and is not a canoe or a kayak, you must also have at least one Type IV on board. These requirements apply to all recreational vessels that are propelled or controlled by machinery, sails, oars, paddles, poles, or another vessel. Sailboards are not required to carry life jackets.

You can substitute an older Type V hybrid for any required Type I, II or III life jacket provided:

1. Its approval label shows it is approved for the activity the vessel is engaged in.
2. It's approved as a substitute for a life jacket of the type required on the vessel.
3. It's used as required on the labels and
4. It's used in accordance with any requirements in its owner's manual (if the approval label makes reference to such a manual.)

A water skier being towed is considered to be on board the vessel when judging compliance with legal requirements.

You are required to keep your Type I, II or III life jackets or equivalent hybrids readily accessible, which means you must be able to reach out and get them when needed. All life jackets must be in good, serviceable condition.

General Considerations

The proper use of a life jacket requires the wearer to know how it will perform. You can gain this knowledge only through experience. Each person on your boat should be assigned a life jacket. Next, it should be fitted to the person who will wear it. Only then can you be sure that it will be ready for use in an emergency. This advice is good even if the water is calm, and you intend to boat near shore.

Boats can sink fast. There may be no time to look around for a life jacket. Fitting one on you in the water is almost impossible. Most drownings occur in inland waters within a few feet of safety. Most victims had life jackets, but they weren't wearing them.

Keeping life jackets in the plastic covers they came wrapped in, and in a cabin, assure that they will stay clean and unfaded. But this is no way to keep them when you are on the water. When you need a life jacket it must be readily accessible and adjusted to fit you. You can't spend time hunting for it or learning how to fit it.

There is no substitute for the experience of entering the water while wearing a life jacket. Children, especially, need practice. If possible, give your guests this experience. Tell them they should keep their arms to their sides when jumping in to keep the life jacket from riding up. Let them jump in and see how the life jacket responds. Is it adjusted so it does not ride up? Is it the proper size? Are all straps snug? Are children's life jackets the right sizes for them? Are they adjusted properly? If a child's life jacket fits correctly, you can lift the child by the jacket's shoulder straps and the child's chin and ears will not slip through. Non-swimmers, children, handicapped persons, elderly persons and over pets should always wear life jackets when they are aboard. Many states require that everyone aboard wear them in hazardous waters.

Inspect your lifesaving equipment from time to time. Leave any questionable or unsatisfactory equipment on shore. An emergency is no time for you to conduct an inspection.

Indelibly mark your life jackets with your vessel's name, number, and calling port. This can be important in a search and rescue effort. It could help concentrate effort where it will do the most good.

Care of Life Jackets

Given reasonable care, life jackets last many years. Thoroughly dry them before putting them away. Store them in dry, well-ventilated places. Avoid the bottoms of lockers and cock storage boxes where moisture may collect. Air and dry them frequently.

Life jackets should not be tossed about or used as fenders or cushions. Many contain wax or fibrous glass material enclosed in plastic bags. The bags can rupture and are then unserviceable. Squeeze your life jacket gently. Does air leak out? If so, water can leak in and it will no longer be safe to use. Cut it up so no one will use it, and throw it away. The covers of some life jackets are made of nylon or polyester. These materials are plastics. Like many plastics, they break down after extended exposure to the ultraviolet light in sunlight. This process may be more rapid when the materials are dyed with bright dyes such as "neon" shades.

Ripped and badly faded fabrics are clues that the covering of your life jacket is deteriorating. A simple test is to pinch the fabric between your thumbs and forefingers. Now try to tear the fabric. If it can be torn, it should definitely be destroyed and discarded. Compare the colors in protected places to those exposed to the sun. If the colors have faded, the materials have been weakened. A life jacket covered in fabric should ordinarily last several boating seasons with normal use. A life jacket used every day in direct sunlight should probably be replaced more often.
