Translation and the Making of Modern Russian Literature Brian James Baer, 2015-11-19 Brian James Baer explores the central role played by translation in the construction of modern Russian literature Peter I's policy of forced Westernization resulted in translation becoming a widely discussed and highly visible practice in Russia a multi lingual empire with a polyglot elite Yet Russia's accumulation of cultural capital through translation occurred at a time when the Romantic obsession with originality was marginalizing translation as mere imitation The awareness on the part of Russian writers that their literature and by extension their cultural identity were born in translation produced a sustained and sophisticated critique of Romantic authorship and national identity that has long been obscured by the nationalist focus of traditional literary studies By offering a re reading of seminal works of the Russian literary canon that thematize translation alongside studies of the circulation and reception of specific translated texts Translation and the Making of Modern Russian Literature models the long overdue integration of translation into literary and cultural studies Sir Bevis of Hampton in Literary Tradition Jennifer Fellows, Ivana Djordjević, 2008 Sir Bevis of Hampton is one of the most widespread and important Middle English romances This book considers its historical and literary contexts and its Welsh Irish and Icelandic versions

Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1916 The Language of the Chaucer Tradition Simon Horobin, 2003 A study of the language of Chaucerian manuscripts printed editions and Chaucer's 15th century followers Winner of the 2005 Beatrice White Prize for outstanding scholarly work in the field of English literature before 1590 The manuscript copies of Chaucer's works preserve valuable information concerning Chaucer's linguistic practices and the ways in which scribes responded to these This book draws on recent developments in Middle English dialectology textual criticism and the application of computers to manuscript studies to assess the evidence Chaucerian manuscripts provide for reconstructing Chaucer's own language and his linguistic environment This book considers how scribes editors and Chaucerian poets transmitted and updated Chaucer's language and the implications of this for our understanding of Chaucerian book production and reception and the processes of linguistic change in the fifteenth century Winner of the 2005 Beatrice White Prize for outstanding scholarly work in the field of English literature before 1590 SIMON HOROBIN lectures on English language at the University of Glasgow The Art of Comparison Catherine Brown, 2017-12-02 Comparison underlies all reading Readers compare words to words and books to all the other books which they have read Some books however demand a particular comparative effort for example novels which contain parallel plot lines In this ambitious and important study Catherine Brown compares Daniel Deronda with Anna Karenina and Women in Love in order to answer the following questions why does one protagonist in each novel fail whilst another succeeds Can their failure and success be understood on the same terms How do the novels use of comparison compare to each other How relevant is George Eliot's influence on Lev Tolstoy and Tolstoy's on D H Lawrence Does Tolstoy being a Russian make this a comparative literary study And what does the comparative in comparative literature actually mean Criticism is combined with metacriticism to explore how novels and critics compare The Catholic Comparative New Testament Oxford University Press, 2005 The Catholic Comparative New Testament features eight complete Catholic New Testaments translated by dedicated scholars and gathered into a single convenient volume This edition includes both word for word translations of the scripture as well as thought for thought translations Readers can compare verses at a glance with facing page translations four translations per page in a clear easy to read typeface The CCNT features four word for word translations Douay Rheims Revised Standard Version Catholic Bible New Revised Standard Version Catholic Bible and the New American Bible These translations follow as closely as possible the New Testament's original wording making them perfect for close readings of the text The Jerusalem Bible the Good News Bible the New Jerusalem Bible and the Christian Community Bible represent the thought for thought school of Bible translation These translations emphasize the intended meaning of the original vocabulary adapting it to English syntax and grammar making it easier to understand for the lay reader The Catholic Comparative New Testament offers the most unique and informed way of reading scripture with its eight different translations Beautifully printed on the highest quality material the CCNT is an excellent study guide for the value

The Complete Works of Rosa Luxemburg, Volume II Rosa Luxemburg, 2016-08-23 Rosa Luxemburg's theoretical masterpiece The second volume in Rosa Luxemburg's Complete Works entitled Economic Writings 2 contains a new English translation of Luxemburg's The Accumulation of Capital A Contribution to the Economic Theory of Imperialism one of the most important works ever composed on capitalism's incessant drive for self expansion and the integral connection between capitalism and imperialism This new translation is the first to present the full work as composed by the author It also contains her book length response to her critics The Accumulation of Capital Or What the Epigones Have Made Out of Marx's Theory An Anti Critique Taken together these two works represent one of the most important Marxist studies of the globalization of capital Also included is an essay on the second and third volumes of Marx's Capital which had originally appeared as an unattributed chapter in Franz Mehring's book Karl Marx Thank you to David Gaharia for helping to support the translation of this book

The Care of Nuns Katie Ann-Marie Bugyis, 2019-04-01 In her ground breaking new study Katie Bugyis offers a new history of communities of Benedictine nuns in England from 900 to 1225 By applying innovative paleographical codicological and textual analyses to their surviving liturgical books Bugyis recovers a treasure trove of unexamined evidence for understanding these women's lives and the liturgical and pastoral ministries they performed She examines the duties and responsibilities of their chief monastic officers abbesses prioresses cantors and sacristans highlighting three of the ministries vital to their practice liturgically reading the gospel hearing confessions and offering intercessory prayers for others Where previous scholarship has argued that the various reforms of the central Middle Ages effectively relegated nuns to complete dependency on the sacramental ministrations of priests Bugyis shows that in fact these women continued to exercise primary control over their spiritual care Essential to this argument is the discovery that the production of the liturgical books used in these communities was carried out by female scribes copyists correctors and creators of texts attesting to the agency and creativity that nuns exercised in the care they extended to themselves and those who sought their hospitality counsel instruction healing forgiveness and intercession

Socialism and Commodity Production: Essay in Marx Revival Paresh Chattopadhyay, 2018-08-07 Socialism is a word that is now habitually taken to refer to a particular social system that prevailed in different parts of the globe during the twentieth century This system was defined primarily by single party rule with public mainly state ownership of the means of production along with a centrally planned economy Its material base was generalised commodity production The spokespersons of this system claim that this socialism was derived from Marx Paresh Chattopadhyay's Socialism and Commodity Production argues the falsity of this claim On the basis of a comprehensive study of Marx's own texts as well as a detailed engagement with a wide variety of theorists of socialist economics it shows that Marx's socialism constituted an Association of free individuals in which private ownership the commodity wage labour and the state have no place

Tensor Calculus With Applications Vladislav V Goldberg, Maks A Akivis, 2003-09-29 This textbook presents the foundations of tensor calculus and the elements of tensor analysis In addition the authors consider numerous applications of tensors to geometry mechanics and physics While developing tensor calculus the authors emphasize its relationship with linear algebra Necessary notions and theorems of linear algebra are introduced and proved in connection with the construction of the apparatus of tensor calculus prior knowledge is not assumed For simplicity and to enable the reader to visualize concepts more clearly all exposition is conducted in three dimensional space The principal feature of the book is that the authors use mainly orthogonal tensors since such tensors are important in applications to physics and engineering With regard to applications the authors construct the general theory of second degree surfaces study the inertia tensor as well as the stress and strain tensors and consider some problems of crystallophysics The last chapter introduces the elements of tensor analysis All notions introduced in the book and also the obtained results are illustrated with numerous examples discussed in the text Each section of the book presents problems a total over 300 problems are given Examples and problems are intended to illustrate reinforce and deepen the presented material There are answers to most of the problems as well as hints and solutions to selected problems at the end of the book Translation Competence and Language Contrast – A Multi-Method Study Iryna Kloster, 2021-10-07

Experience in translation does not always correlate with the quality of the target text Also the evaluations of translation work vary considerably among evaluators Why not shifting the focus of attention from the final translation to the underlying translation process when assessing translation competence Iryna Kloster applies a multi method approach to model the translation competence based on empirical parameters such as gaze behavior dictionary use revisions as well as subjective evaluations of comprehension and translation difficulty Eye tracking keystroke logging screen recording and retrospective interviews were applied to collect data in the experimental groups consisting of novice and semi professional translators As a consequence the author suggests using language contrasts for researching translation competence She draws conclusions based on hypotheses testing provides justification by triangulating quantitative and qualitative data and discusses the results in the light of empirical translation studies as well
