Love's Litany Kevin Kopelson, 1994 This is an extensive analysis of the relation of erotic philosophy to homosexuality in the modern period. The book focuses on homoerotic misappropriations and subversions of homoerotic conceptions of romantic love in texts by eight authors: Oscar Wilde, Andre Gide, Ronald Firbank, Virginia Woolf, Gertrude Stein, Marguerite Yourcenar, Mary Renault and Roland Barthes. In doing so, the author both positions these authors as experimental and influential erotic theorists and protests against the critical undervaluation of love as opposed to desire in the construction of sexuality as we know it.

Romance in Post-Socialist Chinese Television Huike Wen, 2020-07-13 This book is about how the representations of romantic love in television reflect the change and the dilemma of the dominant values in post socialist Chinese mainstream culture. These values mainly center on the impact of individualism, consumerism, capitalism and neoliberalism often referred to as western culture on the perception of romantic love and self realization in China. The book focuses on how romantic love, which plays a vital role in China's ideologically highly restricted social environment, by empowering people with individual choice, change and social mobility, must struggle and compromise with the reality, specifically the values and problems emerging in a transitional China. The book also examines how the representation of romantic love celebrates ideals, individual freedom passion and gender equality and promises changes based on individual diligence and talent while simultaneously obstructing the fulfillment of these ideals which began in the eighteenth century. Significantly the most important and popular Victorian novels are Bildungsromane in which authors construct or rather reconstruct their own life experiences as formative processes. This book shows that the Bildungsroman has a development history, is a specific literary system and consists of a thematic and narrative pattern. It details the entrance of this newly established fictional tradition into Victorian culture and literature through Carlyle's threefold literary reception of the novel of formation and its subsequent flourishing and complexity. In this respect a number of novelistic works are scrutinized and each faces the question as to whether its thematic and narrative perspectives fit the pattern and shape of the Bildungsroman.

Approaching Postmodernism Douwe Wessel Fokkema, Johannes Willem Bertens, 1986. Most of the essays collected in this volume deal with theoretical issues that dominate the international debate on Postmodernism, issues such as the shifting nature of the concept, the problem of periodization and the problem of historicity. Other essays offer readings of Postmodernist texts and relate practical criticism to a theoretical framework. Hans Bertens, Utrecht, sketches the historical development of the concept Postmodernism in American criticism, distinguishing between the various definitions that have been proposed over the last twenty-five years in an attempt to bring some order to the field and to facilitate future discussion. Brian McHale, Tel Aviv, and Douwe Fokkema, Utrecht, offer models for the description of Postmodernist texts. Richard Todd, Amsterdam, argues convincingly that Postmodernism is much more of a presence in contemporary British fiction than has so far been assumed, and Herta Schmid, Munich, presents a similar argument with respect to Russian avant-garde theater. Elrud Ibsch, Amsterdam, presents a contrastive analysis of Thomas Bernhard and Robert Musil. Ulla Musarra, Nijmegen, writes on Italo Calvino. The relation between Existentialism and Postmodernism is examined by Gerhard Hoffman, Würzburg. Theo Dhaen, Utrecht, finds important parallels between Postmodernism in literature and in the visual arts. Matei Calinescu, Bloomington, Indiana, relates literary Postmodernism to a far more general cultural shift, rejecting however Foucault's notion of an epistemic break and arguing for both continuity and discontinuity. Finally, Helmut Lethen, Utrecht, and Susan Suleiman, Harvard, sharply question the concept of Postmodernism. Suleiman argues that the supposed Postmodernist reaction against Modernism may well be a critical myth or, if it isn't, a reaction limited to the American literary situation.
