

Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of risk factors associated with falls between two groups of nursing home residents. One group consisted of cognitively intact residents and the other group consisted of cognitively impaired residents. Data were collected from 100 residents who had been admitted to the nursing home during the previous year. Results showed that there were no significant differences between the two groups regarding the prevalence of risk factors associated with falls.

Abstract

11. When calculating the State quotient in State 17 it is suggested that the interpretation of the policy to control it is that it requires the following: the State quotient, which may vary from time to time, should be calculated for each year, and the average value for the period 1990-1995 should be used.

Total Preparation for the New TOEFL iBT Hubert Silly, 2006-06-22 Dialogues of Love and Government Alice Spencer, 2009-03-26

Dialogues of Love and Government examines the use of the pseudo Boethian didactic dialogue form in a wide range of Medieval texts on the theme of love by authors including Machaut Froissart Dante Chaucer Gower Usk and Hoccleve Although the broad almost universal influence of Boethius in the Middle Ages has been much documented the present study can be said to break new ground on several fronts Firstly whereas scholars have so far tended to focus on the visionary Apocalyptic conventions deployed in the Consolatio and or its stoical conclusions this is the first study to examine the influence of the text qua philosophical dialogue Secondly Dialogues of Love and Government contains the first thorough exploration of the recurrent binding together of the dialogue form with the courtly love theme in the Middle Ages proposing a theory that the origins of such a connection might be traced back to the ancient association between Socratic Platonic elenchus and the spirit Eros Finally it analyses the political implications of this relationship suggesting that the vertical trajectory of the erotic dialogue with its abstraction away from the many to the one naturally lends itself to the elitism and absolutism of Platonic politics The frequent ambiguity and irony of courtly love dialogues the fact that dialogism to borrow a term from Bakhtin is rarely fully overcome can thus be read as implying scepticism about or even an outright rejection of notions of love and politics which are Platonic in origin
