 - (a) 0.3020
 - (b) 0.2634
 - (c) 0.2013
 - (d) 0.5
 - (e) 1
 - (f) None of the above
2. Refer to the previous problem. The standard deviation of the number of students in the sample who have experienced math anxiety is

 - (b) 1.265
 - (c) 0.2530
 - (d) 1
 - (e) .2070
3. In a certain large population, 40% of households have a total annual income of $70,000. A simple random sample of 4 of these households is selected. What is the probability that 2 or more of the households in the survey have an annual income of over $70,000?

Permutation Statistical Methods Kenneth J. Berry, Paul W. Mielke Jr., Janis E. Johnston, 2016-05-03 This research monograph provides a synthesis of a number of statistical tests and measures which at first consideration appear disjoint and unrelated Numerous comparisons of permutation and classical statistical methods are presented and the two methods are compared via probability values and where appropriate measures of effect size Permutation statistical methods compared to classical statistical methods do not rely on theoretical distributions avoid the usual assumptions of normality and homogeneity of variance and depend only on the data at hand This text takes a unique approach to explaining statistics by integrating a large variety of statistical methods and establishing the rigor of a topic that to many may seem to be a nascent field in statistics This topic is new in that it took modern computing power to make permutation methods available to people working in the mainstream of research lly informed audience and can also easily serve as textbook in graduate course departments such statistics psychology or biology particular the audience for book is teachers of practicing statisticians applied quantitative students fields medical research epidemiology public health biology
