Race, Racism, and the Death Penalty in the United States Adalberto Aguirre, David V. Baker, 1991 Race, Racism, and the Death Penalty in the United States David V. Baker, 1987 Geometrical Justice Scott Phillips, Mark Cooney, 2022 Legal decisions continue to mystify Who gets sentenced to death in America and who gets executed Legal rules are supposed to provide answers to these questions but their answers are radically incomplete Geometrical Justice answers these questions by enlisting the pathbreaking geometrical theory of law developed by sociologist Donald Black Drawing on large datasets including the Baldus study which demonstrated racial bias in sentencing decisions this book considers how characteristics such as race class social integration moral reputation and organizational status affect legal decision making Geometrical Justice will be of interest to those engaged in criminal justice criminology and socio legal studies as well as students taking courses on sentencing corrections and capital punishment Race and the Decision to Seek the Death Penalty in Federal Cases, 1995-2000 [United States] ,2006 The purpose of this project was to examine possible defendant and victim race effects in capital decisions in the federal system Per the terms of their grant the researchers selected cases that were handled under the revised Death Penalty Protocol of 1995 and were processed during Attorney General Janet Reno s term in office The researchers began the project by examining a sample of Department of Justice Capital Case Unit CCU case files These files contained documents submitted by the United States Attorney s Office USAO a copy of the indictment a copy of the Attorney General s Review Committee on Capital Cases AGRC s draft and final memorandum to the Attorney General AG and a copy of the AG s decision letter Next they created a list of the types of data that would be feasible and desirable to collect and constructed a case abstraction form and coding rules for recording data on victims defendants and case characteristics from the CCU s hard copy case files The record abstractors did not have access to information about defendant or victim gender or race Victim and defendant race and gender data were obtained from the CCU s electronic files Five specially trained coders used the case abstraction forms to record and enter salient information in the CCU hard copy files into a database Coders worked on only one case at a time The resulting database contains 312 cases for which defendant and victim race data were available for the 94 federal judicial districts These cases were received by the CCU between January 1 1995 and July 31 2000 and for which the AG at the time had made a decision about whether to seek the death penalty prior to December 31 2000 The 312 cases includes a total of 652 defendants see SAMPLING for cases not included The AG made a seek not seek decision for 600 of the defendants with the difference between the counts s Cf <http://webapp.icpsr.umich.edu/cocoon/ICPSR/STUDY/04533/xml> Killing with Prejudice ,1999 Race and Capital Punishment LaShonda Barnes,2003
