Stellenbosch University Application Form For 2015

Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis

Stellenbosch University Application Form For 2015:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

Developing Africa's Financial Services Dana T. Redford, 2017-05-11 Financial services are an essential element in powering entrepreneurial activity beyond resource extraction in Africa. This book examines the macro trends and highlights inspiring success stories of entrepreneurial financial sector ventures that are making a lasting contribution to the economic development of various sub-Saharan African countries.

Writing Centres in Higher Education Laura Dison, Sherran Clarence, 2017-01-01 Writing Centres in South Africa and globally are now well established academic support centres within many universities. Historically tasked with supporting students as they grapple with the demands of academic writing, many centres are now moving beyond their own walls to work with academic tutors, lecturers and departments to rethink the ways in which knowledge is transformed into different kinds of disciplinary writing. This move raises pertinent questions for writing centre directors, tutors, consultants and for the universities that house them: how does a centre tasked with supporting more general academic literacy development through writing pedagogies initiate students into a range of particularised discourse communities? How do writing centre staff and disciplinary lecturers negotiate their shared and separate concerns for student learning through collaborative writing development projects? How do writing centres work with assignments and forms of literacy that challenge them to reconfigure their own pedagogical practices and expand their conceptions of writing support? How do writing centres maintain their core focus as they move flexibly beyond their own spaces to understand the nature of disciplinary writing? This collection of essays reflects on the ways in which writing centres in South Africa are working in and across disciplines. Institutional constraints and challenges that arise from these collaborations are addressed and opportunities for transforming teaching and learning spaces are explored. The chapters speak to the global move in higher education to reconsider how knowledge is made, who makes it and how support and development opportunities for students and lecturers should be created and sustained across the disciplines. This volume contributes to the body of knowledge in the growing field of the scholarship of teaching and learning in higher education in South Africa. It builds on the work of the first collection of such

Global Science's Cooperation Opportunities, Challenges, and Good Practices Moussaoui, Mohamed, 2023-07-24 Science diplomacy gives possibilities for international diplomacy and science policy to collaborate to more directly address social and global challenges such as successful diplomatic engagement international scientific coordination and policy coherence in response to the COVID 19 pandemic However most academic scientists lack policy process training networking opportunities with science policymakers and the capacity to use their expertise in the field to advance policy or diplomacy These barriers limit scientists research impact inhibit science policy relations reduce science recommendations and restrict university engagement in national and international contexts The origins of science diplomacy have yet to be closely examined and its current format does not give a clear understanding of how it concretely translates into science policy actions Global Science's Cooperation Opportunities Challenges and Good Practices provides a comprehensive overview of science diplomacy and its evolution in history and analyzes the ways in which politics science and diplomacy intertwine The book also provides a critical review of science diplomacy by exposing its limitations in addressing global challenges and by reflecting on the specific questions relating to the adaptation of the science diplomacy concept to the context of the Global South Covering key topics such as climate change foreign policy and energy consumption this premier reference source is ideal for policymakers government officials politicians industry professionals researchers academicians scholars practitioners instructors and students

Information Systems

Architecture and Technology: Proceedings of 40th Anniversary International Conference on Information Systems Architecture and Technology - ISAT 2019 Leszek Borzemski, Jerzy Świątek, Zofia Wilimowska, 2019-09-04

This three volume book highlights significant advances in the development of new information systems technologies and architectures. Further, it helps readers solve specific research and analytical problems and glean useful knowledge and business value from data. Each chapter provides an analysis of a specific technical problem followed by a numerical analysis, simulation, and implementation of the solution to the real world problem. Managing an organization especially in today's rapidly changing environment is a highly complex process. Increased competition in the marketplace especially as a result of the massive and successful entry of foreign businesses into domestic markets, changes in consumer behaviour, and broader access to new technologies and information calls for organisational restructuring and the introduction and modification of management methods using the latest scientific advances. This situation has prompted various decision making bodies to introduce computer modelling of organization management systems. This book presents the peer reviewed proceedings of the 40th Anniversary International Conference Information Systems Architecture and Technology ISAT held on September 15-17, 2019 in Wrocław, Poland. The conference was organised by the Computer Science Department, Faculty of Computer Science and Management, Wrocław University of Sciences and Technology, and University of Applied Sciences in Nysa, Poland. The papers have been grouped into three major sections. Part I discusses topics including but not limited to artificial intelligence methods, knowledge discovery and data mining, big data, knowledge based management, Internet of Things, cloud computing, and high performance computing, distributed computer systems, content delivery networks, and service oriented computing. Part II addresses various topics such as system modelling for control, recognition and decision support, mathematical modelling in computer system design, service oriented systems, and cloud computing and complex process modelling. Part III focuses on a number of themes like knowledge based management, modelling of financial and investment decisions, modelling of managerial decisions, production systems management and maintenance, risk management, small business management, and theories and models of innovation.

Institutional Research in South African Higher Education Jan Botha, Nicole J Muller, 2016-11-01. The book provides a thorough overview of Institutional Research (IR) i.e. applied higher education research undertaken within universities in South Africa. It is a collection of essays focusing on the character and institutional setting of IR, how IR is embedded into the mechanisms of steering, shaping, and reforming higher education, and what the major results were of IR in select thematic areas. The book is a valuable resource for higher education researchers and social researchers in South Africa interested in higher education. It also deserves to be read by practitioners and policymakers in the field of higher education in South Africa. It serves as an interesting case study for higher education researchers all over the world.

Complexity Applications in Language and Communication Sciences Angels Massip-Bonet, Gemma Bel-Enguix, Albert Bastardas-Boada, 2019-01-11. This book offers insights on the study of natural language as a complex adaptive system It discusses a new way to tackle the problem of language modeling and provides clues on how the close relation between natural language and some biological structures can be very fruitful for science The book examines the theoretical framework and then applies its main principles to various areas of linguistics It discusses applications in language contact language change diachronic linguistics and the potential enhancement of classical approaches to historical linguistics by means of new methodologies used in physics biology and agent systems theory It shows how studying language evolution and change using computational simulations enables to integrate social structures in the evolution of language and how this can give rise to a new way to approach sociolinguistics Finally it explores applications for discourse analysis semantics and cognition

Derrida and Africa Grant Farred, 2019-10-17 Derrida and Africa takes up Jacques Derrida as a figure of thought in relation to Africa with a focus on Derrida's writings specifically on Africa which were influenced in part by his childhood in El Biar From chapters that take up Derrida as Mother to contemplations on how to situate Derrida in relation to other African philosophers from essays that connect deconstruction and diaspora to a chapter that engages the ways in which Derrida especially in a text such as Monolingualism of the Other or the Prosthesis of Origin is haunted by place to a chapter that locates Derrida firmly in postapartheid South Africa Derrida in and Africa is the insistent line of inquiry Edited by Grant Farred this collection asks What is Derrida to Africa What is Africa to Derrida and What is this specter called Africa that haunts Derrida

Feeling lives: An intersectional exploration of past experiences and present living Lindsay Clowes, LJ Theo, Nadia Sanger, Landa Mabenge, Sisa Ngabaza, 2023-11-15 We each make sense of the world through our embodied feeling lives We do it through the social groupings contexts and processes which history rather than biology presents and assigns to us In this collection we aim to illustrate how these embodied feelings and emotions underpin contemporary theorising by sharing reflective autobiographical writing by individuals from a wide range of backgrounds and contexts This somewhat unruly collection unsettles conventional academic writing precisely because authors have grounded themselves in the tangible and the personal rather than in abstract theory We hope that readers might see aspects of their own lives in some of these stories develop better understandings of lives that are experienced very differently and start or continue to theorise their own lives
