

U.S. History – Regents Review Packet

1. Colonial America (1607-1763)

Main Facts to Remember

- The earliest colonies in North America were:
  - JAMESTOWN, Virginia – settled by businessmen from England who sought to make money by growing and selling tobacco; the area had fertile soil and Virginia grew into a powerful colony of tobacco plantations (large farms where slaves did most of the work).
  - MASSACHUSETTS BAY (sometimes called Plymouth) – settled by Puritans from England who were seeking religious freedom for themselves; the Puritans built towns, with small farms on the outskirts.
  - NEW AMSTERDAM – settled by Dutch traders who settled on Manhattan Island; in the beginning they mainly traded furs; New Amsterdam was later taken over by the British and renamed “New York”.
- Each of these colonies was built on the Atlantic Coast, close to the water (better for trade).
- The policy that the British followed toward the colonies was called mercantilism – this means that a “mother country” (like England) had colonies (like America) for two main reasons: 1. to get raw materials; 2. to create new markets (places to sell their products); it also meant that the colony was not allowed to compete economically with the mother country.
- The British also followed a policy of salutary neglect toward the American colonies – this meant that the British pretty much left the Americans alone in their day-to-day lives, as long as raw materials kept being shipped to England and as long as Americans bought only British-made products.
- Early examples of democracy in the American colonies:
  - The Mayflower Compact: An agreement made by the first Puritan settlers in Massachusetts – it said that they would follow the idea of self-government.
  - The House of Burgesses: In Virginia, this was the first elected legislature in the American colonies; it was a first step towards representative government (a government where people could elect their own representatives).

Asian American Film Festivals Erin Franziska Högerle, 2020-10-26 Responding to a lack of studies on the film festival's role in the production of cultural memory this book explores different parameters through which film festivals shape our reception and memories of films By focusing on two Asian American film festivals this book analyzes the frames of memory that festivals create for their films constructed through and circulated by the various festival media It further establishes that festival locations both cities and screening venues play a significant role in shaping our experience of films Finally it shows that festivals produce performances which help guide audiences towards certain readings and direct the film's role as a memory object Bringing together film festival studies and memory studies Asian American Film Festivals offers a mixed methods approach with which to explore the film festival phenomenon thus shedding light on the complex dynamics of frames locations and performances shaping the festival's memory practices It also draws attention to the understudied genre of Asian American film festivals showing how these festivals actively engage in constructing and performing a minority group's collective identity and memory

After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward Cathy N Davidson The New York Times Book Review After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform Diane Ravitch author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System A bestselling business journalist critiques the top down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler more democratic entrepreneurialism In an entirely fresh take on school reform business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates Eli Broad and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world After the Education Wars explains how the market based measures and carrot and stick incentives informing today's reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty first century companies as well These rich detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up lessons also learned from both the open source software and quality movements The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton Massachusetts where the state's once failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college to Leander Texas a large district where school improvement spurred by the ideas of quality guru W Edwards Deming has become a way of life A welcome exception to the doom and gloom canon of education reform After the Education Wars makes clear that what's needed is not more grand ideas but practical and informed ways to grow the best ones that are already transforming schools

Exchanging Objects Catherine A. Nichols, 2021-04-01 As an historical account of the exchange of duplicate specimens between anthropologists at the Smithsonian Institution and museums collectors and schools around the world in the late nineteenth century this book reveals connections between both well known museums and little known local institutions created through the exchange of museum objects It explores how anthropologists categorized some objects in their collections as duplicate specimens making them potential candidates for exchange This historical form of what museum professionals would now call deaccessioning considers the intellectual and technical requirement of classifying objects in museums and suggests that a deeper understanding of past museum practice can inform mission driven contemporary museum work
