Unit 9 Reading Guide

Unit 9.1 + 9.2

Key Ideas:

- The process of globalization increased the use of fossil fuels and alternative energy sources. Increased transportation and economic activity meant more production, demand on natural resources, and the negative environmental effects of fuel usage.
- The process of globalization made the world more interconnected than ever before. Transportation and communication technologies were the two most significant technological developments in the process of globalization.
- Increase globalization led to increased movement of people, which in turn led to the rapid spread of disease. Population growth, particularly in urban areas, also fueled disease outbreaks - most often with low-income populations and those in the developing world.
- As populations grow and people live longer, the world is witnessing an increase in "diseases of longevity" - that occur later in life. These diseases are often connected with the human body's natural decline into old age.
- Genetic engineering and bio-engineering allowed scientists to adapt natural resources to the needs/demands of human activity. This led to a transformation in the way food is grown/produced, the creation of new medicines/vaccines, and healthcare services (surgeries, nutrition, etc.).

Managing Previously Unmanaged Collections Angela Kipp, 2024-11-19 This book is a practical guide for everyone who is confronted with a collection that hasn't seen any preventive conservation or cataloging before. It helps gaining an overview, defining priorities and organizing the work in a way it is safe for the objects and the people involved. It defines logical exits, goals to work towards where the collection is in a state the next steps can wait without risking the progress made. Later on, readers learn to define their own logical exits that fit their specific situation. Compared to other books about collections management, it doesn't focus on the details of collections care but rather on the big picture of managing such a project. It assumes that at the beginning there is nothing but the reader and an unmanaged collection so that part of the project is to source money, material and people to help. The second edition has a new chapter on setting up collections management systems; the original text was reworked and in parts enhanced; there are additional success stories in the last chapter with references to them in the text and the bibliography now contains some resources for natural history, indigenous and archaeological collections.
