

Homework Questions 1

How effective was the Treaty of Commerce?

The Treaty of Commerce, was the treaty that ended hostilities and signing by Edward VII. The Treaty was signed by Germany and the Allied Nations on June 26, 1919, formally ending World War One. The terms of the treaty required that Germany pay financial reparations, disarm, lose territory, and give up all of the overseas colonies. At the time it was implemented ending WW1 WW2 had 100 million people for years of Germany starting Edward VII 20 years later.

Homework Questions 2

Choose two of the historians and explain their points of view and what they said

Mr. Max Hastings- military historian

Hastings perspective is that Germany started WW1. Hastings says that he doesn't believe that Britain, America or France started WW1 and that Germany is the only one that should be held accountable. His argument is that Germany started only country with that power to start WW1. In July 1914 he announced his book amongst newspapers for America's viewpoint of Britain.

Mr. Richard J. Evans- English perspective of history, Cambridge

J Evans perspective is that Britain is accountable for starting WW1. His argument is that because of Britain's imperialism and imperialism, other European countries feared this attempt and this could be made as what is WW1. Also, the explosion from the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, made the other countries nervous and the war started by the British.

Radio Journalism in America Jim Cox, 2013-04-06 This history of radio news reporting recounts and assesses the contributions of radio toward keeping America informed since the 1920s It identifies distinct periods and milestones in broadcast journalism and includes a biographical dictionary of important figures who brought news to the airwaves Americans were dependent on radio for cheap entertainment during the Great Depression and for critical information during the Second World War when no other medium could approach its speed and accessibility Radio's diminished influence in the age of television beginning in the 1950s is studied as the aural medium shifted from being at the core of many families activities to more specialized applications reaching narrowly defined listener bases Many people turned elsewhere for the news And now even TV is challenged by yet newer media The introduction of technological marvels throughout the past hundred years has significantly altered what Americans hear and how when and where they hear it
