To whom it may concern:

TFT, Inc. is a manufacturer of EAS Encoders/Decoders, who now seeks Type Certification of an EAS Decoder (only) under FCC Rule Part 11.

On January 31, 1996, TFT, Inc. was granted Type Certification on an Emergency Alert System Encoder/Decoder, FCC Identifier BIOEAS911, File No. 31010/EQU 4-3-4. The Decoder (only) for which TFT now seeks Type Certification is part of the original Certification Application made on November 10, 1995. Several of the Part 11 Compliance Tests for that application are incorporated in this new application for an EAS Decoder (only) device, which does not function as an Encoder as well.

In order to accomplish this, TFT has removed several circuits and components from the original Encoder/Decoder in order to disable and defeat its functionality as an EAS Encoder. Because the overall construction of the unit is not materially changed, all Decoder tests conducted for the original application remains at no change and may apply to this application as well.

Best regards,

Edmund Fong
Executive Vice President- TFT Inc.

This Springer Handbook of Metrology and Testing presents the principles of Metrology the science of measurement and the methods and techniques of Testing determining the characteristics of a given product as they apply to chemical and microstructural analysis and to the measurement and testing of materials properties and performance including modelling and simulation The principal motivation for this Handbook stems from the increasing demands of technology for measurement results that can be used globally Measurements within a local laboratory or manufacturing facility must be able to be reproduced accurately anywhere in the world The book integrates knowledge from basic sciences and engineering disciplines compiled by experts from internationally known metrology and testing institutions and academe as well as from industry and conformity assessment and accreditation bodies The Commission of the European Union has expressed this as there is no science without measurements no quality without testing and no global markets without standards PC Mag ,1997-04-22 PCMag com is a leading authority on technology delivering Labs based independent reviews of the latest products and services Our expert industry analysis and practical solutions help you make better buying decisions and get more from technology District of Columbia Appropriations for 1991: Cable television enterprise fund United States.
