Helga's Diary Helga Weiss, 2013-02-14 The most moving Holocaust diary published since Anne Frank Daily Telegraph First they led us to the baths where they took from us everything we still had Quite literally there wasn't even a hair left I didn't even recognize my own mother till I heard her voice In 1941 aged 12 Helga Weiss her mother and father were forced to say goodbye to their home their relatives and all that they knew and were interned in the Nazi concentration camp of Terezín For the next three years Helga documented her experiences there and those of her friends and family in a diary Then they were sent to Auschwitz and the diary was left behind hidden in a wall Helga was one of a tiny number of Jewish children from Prague to survive the holocaust After she returned home she eventually managed to retrieve her diary and completed the journal of her experiences The result is one of the most vivid first hand accounts of the Holocaust ever to have been recovered Anne Frank's diary finished when her family was rounded up for the camps in Helga's Diary we have a child's record of life inside the extermination factories Shines a light into the long black night that was the Holocaust Daily Express Resounds with a ferocious will to endure conditions of astonishing cruelty Displays a rare capacity to remain keenly observant and to find the right words for transmitting memory into history New Statesman A moving testimony to courage and endurance Remarkable what is so compelling is the immediacy and unknowingness Financial Times Helga Weiss was born in Prague in 1929 Her father Otto was employed in the state bank and her mother Irena was a dressmaker Of the 15 000 children brought to Terezín and later deported to Auschwitz only 100 survived the Holocaust Helga was one of them On her return to Prague she studied art and is well known for her paintings She has two children three grandchildren and lives in the flat where she was born How to Pretend You're Normal for Two Hours Fran Preston, First impressions matter especially when you're trying to convince someone that you're a functioning human being and not a sleep deprived overthinker with crumbs in your handbag and a mild existential crisis In How to Pretend You're Normal for Two Hours Fran Preston offers a survival guide for the socially anxious romantically hopeful and emotionally chaotic among us who are just trying to make it through a date without accidentally oversharing or sweating through our shirt From mastering the art of small talk to strategically timing your toilet break this book is your essential prep guide for getting through the most deceptively high stakes event in modern life the first date With laugh out loud honesty painfully relatable anecdotes and genuinely helpful tips Fran helps you fake confidence just long enough to see if there's a real connection underneath the nerves Because deep down we're all pretending a little bit and that's perfectly normal Sort of The Journals John Fowles, 2007-12-18 In 1963 John Fowles won international recognition with The Collector his first published novel In the years following with the publication of The Magus The French Lieutenant's Woman The Ebony Tower and his other critically acclaimed works of fiction nonfiction and poetry Fowles took his place among the most innovative and important English novelists of our time Now with this first volume of his journals which covers the years from 1949 to 1965 we see revealed not only the creative development of a great writer but also the deep connection between Fowles's autobiographical experience and his literary inspiration Commencing in Fowles's final year at Oxford the journals in this volume chronicle the years he spent as a university lecturer in France his experiences teaching school on the Greek island of Spetsai which would inspire The Magus and his love affair there with the married woman who would later become his first wife and his return to England and his ongoing struggle to achieve literary success It is an account of a life lived in total engagement with the world although Fowles the novelist takes center stage we see as well Fowles the nascent poet and critic ornithologist and gardener passionate naturalist and traveler cinephile and collector of old books Soon after he fell in love with his first wife Elizabeth Fowles wrote in his journal She has asked me not to write about her in here But I could not not write loving her as I do What else I betrayed I could not betray this diary It is that determined unsparing honesty and forthrightness that imbues these journals with all the emotional power and narrative complexity of his novels They are a revelation of both the man and the artist Archaeological Science Michael P. Richards, Kate Britton, 2020-01-16 An accessible and wide ranging introduction to the exciting and expanding field of archaeological science for students professionals and academics The Italian Journals Peter Greco, Dean D'Adamo, 2012 Can two guys enjoy a trip to Italy with their wives and still like each other at the end This book is a unique and hilarious take on the classic vacation to Rome Florence and Venice You'll actually read two separate accounts of the same trip and at times ask yourself if it actually was the same trip just as the authors did and they were there From back cover Dating
