The School Leadership Survival Guide Jeffrey S. Brooks, Amanda Heffernan, 2021-01-01 The School Leadership Survival Guide What to Do When Things Go Wrong How to Learn from Mistakes and Why You Should Prepare for the Worst is intended as an uncommon guide for school leaders and a resource they can turn to when confronted with issues they might not normally face in typical practice The book serves as a bridge between research and day to day school leadership and is intended to help leaders and school communities improve in areas they routinely avoid In this sense the book is meant as a go to resource for principals those who train and teach them and scholars Although authors recognize the complexity of issues raised in the book each chapter has a How to What to do or Why You Should ethos in order to give the book a unifying structure and help provide a practical translation of research and theory into practice Some of the issues addressed include How to elevate student voice How to navigate religious conflict in the school and community How to improve support for LGBTIQ students Why You Should develop a natural disaster plan How to work against racism in the school and community How to practice inclusion in the school How to make a vision and mission come to life How to manage relationships with difficult people What to do when there is racial tension in the community How to learn the history of your school and community and why that matters How to guide and support a leadership team and What to do in a school with low trust

Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity Linda C. Tillman, James Joseph Scheurich, 2013-08-21 The rapid growth of diversity within U S schooling and the heightened attention to the lack of equity in student achievement school completion and postsecondary attendance has made equity and diversity two of the principle issues in education educational leadership and educational leadership research The Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity is the first research based handbook that comprehensively addresses the broad diversity in U S schools by race ethnicity culture language gender disability sexual identity and class The Handbook both highly values the critically important strengths and assets that diversity brings to the United States and its schools yet at the same time candidly critiques the destructive deficit thinking biases and prejudices that undermine school success for many groups of students Well known chapter authors explore diversity and related inequities in schools and the achievement problems these issues present to school leaders Each chapter reviews theoretical and empirical evidence of these inequities and provides research based recommendations for practice and for future research Celebrating the broad diversity in U S schools the Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity critiques the inequities connected to that diversity and provides evidence based practices to promote student success for all children

Educational Leadership through a Practice Lens Jane Wilkinson, 2021-12-15 This book provides the theoretical and analytical resources for an urgent rethinking of the social project of educating and educational leading It examines what educational leadership is namely the politics and power of leadership as a practice and what it can and should be offering a pedagogical and praxis informed approach to educational practice Drawing on research conducted at various Australian schools and education districts it argues for a reframing of educational leadership as pedagogical practice praxis to transform theorising and practice in the field The book provides a rich account of educational leading through a practice lens bringing into dialogue the theory of practice architectures with site ontologies Bourdieu s thinking tools and feminist critical scholarship The book tracks the practices and praxis of educational leaders as they grapple with the changing landscape and forces of educational policies that have informed Australian education It reimagines education leadership by integrating Continental and Northern European understandings of pedagogy and praxis as being morally and ethically informed as opposed to the narrower Anglophone notions of pedagogy as teaching and learning The book adds to the body of knowledge on the actual work of leadership as a distinct set of practices that is morally and ethically informed Readers will find a more holistic understanding of educational leadership practice and praxis based on the everyday accounts of educational leaders teachers and students in schools and education districts

Re-centering the Critical Potential of Nordic School Leadership Research Lejf Moos, Elisabet Nihlfors, Jan Merok Paulsen, 2020-10-19 This volume contributes significantly to the ongoing international and Nordic paradigm shift in educational leadership research It advocates for going from a contemporary mainstream functionalist paradigm to a reflexive paradigm based on educational values and knowledge The volume is built on the shared basis that the purpose of education is and must be fundamental for school leadership practice However that is often forgotten in educational governance and policy The basis of the argument is that educational leadership needs to change from focusing on effectiveness and narrowly defined accountability towards focusing on leadership that is contributing to the general education of students That entails that leadership research need to focus on complex perspectives like context relations trust sense making and social and human values and less on control outcomes accountability and testing The volume reminds readers about the need to raise awareness of the contexts of education and research be they political cultural economic or ideological Chapters analyze discuss and compare research from Nordic educational leadership research systems Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden The cross system insights clarify the fundamental relations between policy governance and research practice are and discuss forgotten dependencies and opportunities

Race-Conscious Caring in Educational Leadership Michael G. Gunzenhauser, Osly J. Flores, Michael W. Quigley, This book describes a model for educational leadership ethics that provides a critical reflective vision of what education can be for all children in K 12 schools The authors of Race Conscious Caring in Educational Leadership conducted interviews with 22 school leaders who shared their visions toward serving students of color The resulting model is built around the four features demonstrated by the strongest leaders race consciousness critical caring justice leadership and ethical praxis Race conscious caring leaders go beyond their good intentions to develop deep understanding of the needs and interests of their students they learn about racial identities and histories as strengths and sources of learning and they provide opportunities for educational experiences that are routinely denied to marginalized and minoritized students This book provides numerous examples of race conscious caring leaders with key analysis of where leaders fall short It is designed to help future and current leaders to critically reflect on their own experiences challenging them to build their capacity for transformative change Book Features Provides instructors with a unique text that integrates equity leadership and professional ethics Describes a comprehensive model that challenges leaders to improve across multiple dimensions especially if they are strong in some areas and not as strong in others Presents the ideal for each part of the model along with examples of partial fulfillment and what it looks like when a leader evidences very few of the ideals Incorporates examples and excerpts from school leaders who demonstrate varied levels of engagement with the model to help readers see themselves in the various categories Addresses the challenges today s leaders are facing due to policies and political climates working to pull back on equity work

Decentring Leadership Christine Grice, Amanda Lizier, Susanne Francisco, 2024-02-22 This book is about the practices of leading and their arrangements in a range of contemporary educational contexts It seeks to shift the traditional individual and role based educational leadership narrative to more transformational shared and ongoing practices between people thereby decentring leadership In this volume contributors consider leading from a practice perspective across a range of educational contexts Focusing on leading rather than leadership they examine how educational leaders lead through decentring from a range of positions and across a range of educational sectors from schools to higher education Chapters attend to the practices of leading to decentre normative traditional notions of leadership that focus on the individual leader as the unit of study They draw on the theory of practice architectures to understand leading as a shared and ongoing process rather than as an individual act This growing body of work that uses the theory of practice architectures TPA is disrupting people s thinking towards leading as a practice Focusing on practices and their arrangements shifts the traditional role based educational leadership narrative to the more transformational elements of practice architectures in thinking about leading in contemporary contexts Decentring Leadership will be a key resource for practitioners and researchers of education leadership and policy educational administration educational research educational studies and sociology It was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Educational Administration and History Resources in Education ,1999-10

The Ethical Dimensions of School Leadership P.T. Begley,Olof Johansson,2006-04-11 Among the many significant features of this volume is the dedication to the late Don Willower Professor of Education at Pennsylvania State University It is significant in light of Willower s long record of major contributions to the empirical literature in Educational Administration and his mentorship of many students steeped in the tradition of the so called science of administration These include scholars like Wayne Hoy and Peter Cistone who readily acknowledge their personal and intellectual debt to Willower How is it then that Willower a colleague of the giants of Educational Administration in the 60s and 70s people such as Dan Griffiths Jack Culbertson and Roald Campbell to name just a few came to associate himself with this relatively upstart group of academics and practitioners interested in values of all things As an inheritor of the mantle thrown down by Getzels and Guba all those years ago it might seem strange to see Willower consorting with people who argue about the distinction between fact and value It is true of course that Willower majored in philosophy at the State University of New York at Buffalo as an undergraduate So the language and the ways of thinking among many of those interested in values and ethics were not all that foreign to him He could certainly hold his own in debate with his friend Chris Hodgkinson the foremost philosopher of Educational Administration in the field today and a contributor to this volume Journal of School Leadership ,1998

Educational Leadership Preparation and Development David Gurr,Peng Liu,2025-08-04 This collection addresses key issues in the preparation and development of school leaders across eight countries and four world areas North America United Kingdom Europe and Australasia The work offers evidence based insights into the current and future leadership preparation and development needed for school success The future focus extends across the coming two or more decades and challenges the reader to consider how schools will likely develop and the leadership we will need in these schools The book comes at a time when many schools are faced with significant challenges including enduring impacts from the pandemic teacher shortages and the incorporation of new technologies such as generative AI Leadership in schools has never been more important and it is timely to consider the leadership preparation and development we need now and into the future There are chapters that address leadership from pre service and early career teachers through to principals providing a whole of career focus The authors are part of the International Leadership Development Network and use their extensive research to consider the important areas of teacher and middle leaders leadership for equity inclusion and social justice and school community and university partnerships It is a book that will prove useful to teachers and school leaders system leaders university faculty and graduate researchers

Multiculturalism and Multilingualism at the Crossroads of School Leadership Jon C. Veenis, Sylvia Robertson, Jami Royal Berry, 2020-10-01 This volume builds upon emergent understandings about educational leadership and policy in hopes of continuing to refine our understanding of what effective leadership means in linguistically and culturally diverse school contexts The volume seeks to entrench a deeper understanding of the broader leadership policies and practices that promote the success of linguistically and culturally diverse students while also recognizing that effective leadership can be highly dependent on context It offers original empirical research that enhances an understanding of the interdependencies between leadership culture language and policy i e the mechanisms that engender or hinder successful stewardship of linguistic and cultural plurality The confluence of school leadership linguistic diversity and multiculturalism makes this volume unique especially considering the pace at which global migration continues to accelerate coupled with the need to accommodate an array of diverse learning needs in today s schools School Pedagogy in Practice Ruksana Beigi, 2020-07-20 This accessible text encourages readers to understand and confidently engage with distinctive early years pedagogy. It shows how pedagogy not only underpins the early years curriculum but is also inherent in the role of the adult and the experiences that are offered to young children. The book explains what the differing early years pedagogies are, why they are encouraged, and the knowledge, skills, and practice that are required to work with them. Emphasising that what works in one situation may not in another, and a wider pedagogical knowledge is essential to ensure quality outcomes for children, it considers key topics such as the role of the pedagogue and developing your own style, promoting a lifelong love of learning in children under your care, sensitivity and inclusion for all children's cultures and communities, promoting the rights of every child under your care. Incorporating reflection points and research tasks to support independent learning, this is essential reading for students on Early Childhood Studies courses and Early Years Foundation Degrees as well as early years practitioners.

Centering Youth, Family, and Community in School

Leadership Katherine C. Rodela, Melanie Bertrand, 2022-09-30 This timely book advances a new vision for educational justice centered on the leadership activities, organizing efforts, and counternarratives of youth, parents, families, and communities of color and other groups who are seeking to transform local schools and communities across the United States. Bringing together scholars, activists, and leaders, this contributed volume presents cases and first-person narratives for readers to analyze in order to interrogate inequities facing communities and schools. By creating spaces for youth, family, and community leadership within schools and opening decision-making to include their input, leaders can support transformative justice-oriented school change. This book is a critical teaching tool asking educators and administrators to reflect, learn, and re-imagine their practice and collaborate with other leaders in their communities.
