Between the World and the Urban Classroom George Sirrakos Jr., Christopher Emdin, 2017-05-12 Borrowing from the ideas of John Dewey schools and classrooms are a reflection of the world therefore in order to make sense of the urban classroom we need to make sense of the world In this book the editors have compiled a collection of nine critical essays or chapters each examining a particular contemporary national and or international event The essays each undertake an explicit approach to naming oppression and addressing it in the context of urban schooling Each essay has a two fold purpose The first purpose is to help readers see the world unveiled through a more critical lens and to problematize long held beliefs about urban classrooms with regard to race gender social class equity and access Second as each author draws parallels between an event and urban classrooms a better understanding of the microstructures that exist in urban classrooms emerges At a time of serious political economic and social uncertainty we need a book like this one that showcases how the world can be seen as a critical site of curriculum and pedagogy A powerful intersectional analysis of the world and urban sociopolitical context authors in this book push the boundaries of what educators know and do in urban schools and classrooms Grounded in frameworks of critical race theory and culturally relevant pedagogy authors center essential societal moments that must be viewed as the real curriculum These moments can equip students with tools to examine the what of the world as well as how to examine critique challenge and disrupt individual systemic and structural realities and practices that perpetuate and maintain a racist sexist homophobic and xenophobic status quo This is an important forward thinking innovative book a welcome addition to the field of urban education H Richard Milner IV Helen Faison Chair of Urban Education University of Pittsburgh

Missing Music Ian Brennan, 2024-04-02 Missing Music Voices from Where the Dirt Roads End details Grammy winning music producer and author Ian Brennan's ongoing quest to provide musical platforms for underrepresented nations and populations around the world In a compact and quick read format Missing Music collects the latest narratives from Brennan's field recording treks This edition features a greater emphasis on storytelling and an even greater abundance of photos from his wife Italian Rwandan photographer filmmaker Marilena Umuhoza Delli Together they meet the elderly shamans of the world's most musical language Taa a tongue that sadly is dying with fewer than 2 500 speakers left The duo traveled the most remote roads of Botswana to find the formally nomadic people now relegated to small desert towns In Azerbaijan Brennan and Delli ascended to the mountainous Iranian border to record centenarians in scattered villages of the Talysh minority where the world's oldest man reportedly reached the age of 168 The result is the only record ever released to feature the voices of singers over one hundred years of age Among other tales Brennan also updates the saga of the Sheltered Workshop Singers following COVID including the tragic deterioration of his sister Jane Arising from the more than forty records that Brennan has produced over the past decade from underrepresented nations such as Comoros Djibouti Romania South Sudan Suriname and Cambodia Missing Music serves as the newest suite in the multiverse symphony of the world's most ignored corners the places where countries expire and the forgotten live
