A Modern History of European Cities Rosemary Wakeman, 2020-01-23 Rosemary Wakeman s original survey text comprehensively explores modern European urban history from 1815 to the present day It provides a journey to cities and towns across the continent in search of the patterns of development that have shaped the urban landscape as indelibly European The focus is on the built environment the social and cultural transformations that mark the patterns of continuity and change and the transition to modern urban society Including over 60 images that serve to illuminate the analysis the book examines whether there is a European city and if so what are its characteristics Wakeman offers an interdisciplinary approach that incorporates concepts from cultural and postcolonial studies as well as urban geography and provides full coverage of urban society not only in western Europe but also in eastern and southern Europe using various cities and city types to inform the discussion The book provides detailed coverage of the often neglected urbanization post 1945 which allows us to more clearly understand the modernizing arc Europe has followed over the last two centuries

Yearbook of Transnational History Thomas Adam,2020-09-22 The Yearbook of Transnational History is dedicated to disseminating pioneering research in the field of transnational history This third volume is dedicated to the transnational turn in urban history It brings together articles that investigate the transnational and transatlantic exchanges of ideas and concepts for urban planning architecture and technology that served to modernize cities across East and Central Europe and the United States This collection includes studies about regionals fairs as centers of knowledge transfer in Eastern Europe about the transfer of city planning among developing urban centers within the Austro Hungarian Empire about the introduction of the Bauhaus into American society and about the movement for constructing paved roads to connect cities on a global scale The volume concludes with a historiographical article that discusses the potential of the transnational perspective to urban history The articles in this volume highlight the movement of ideas and practices across various cultures and societies and explore the relations connections and spaces created by these movements The articles show that modern cities across the European continent and North America emerged from intensive exchanges of ideas for almost every aspect of modern urban life

Planting New Towns in Europe in the Interwar Years Helen Meller,Heleni Porfyriou,2016-06-22 The key theme of the papers in this book concerns the prospects of building new urban environments and creating new societies in Europe during the interwar years The contributions do not focus on the system of government communist fascist or democratic but rather on what actually got built by whom and why and how the international communication of ideas was filtered through the prism of local concerns and culture As such the volume serves to tease out connections between urban form and social aspirations and between the moral basis of social planning and how it was interpreted Did the new towns of the interwar years actually create a planned society where visions met realities aided by the design of new urban forms This is one of the principal questions investigated by the contributors here in all the different political contexts of their chosen new towns

Industrial Location and Site Planning Hans Mertens,2025-05-02 This book looks at the complexity of the topic of industrial site planning Levels and actors are understood and discussed in terms of their mutual interaction There is no stable end state in any industrial sector At best these are states of balance in motion The aim is therefore to show paths and phases of development that help to overcome stagnation thresholds and to explore the triggering moments for new dynamics Technological justifications such as AI Industry 4 0 decarbonization are only one dimension Industrial policy cooperation models inter communal for example in the case between market participants and producers as well as integrative planning activities both have socio economic and ecological dimensions Based on various regional examples from central Germany and certain international comparisons this volume helps illustrate industrial location developments in the context of ongoing regional structural changes The author s architect and member of relevant specialist organizations MBA in Switzerland and the USA involvement with a wide variety of projects monuments university and industrial buildings residential construction etc over almost 40 years is based on design and construction practice Furthermore 7 technical experts have reflected on the diverse dimension of the subject presented in this volume Additionally deindustrialization scenarios are contrasted with the necessity and path to neo industrialization

Paradise Planned Robert A.M. Stern, David Fishman, Jacob Tilove, 2013-12-03 Paradise Planned is the definitive history of the development of the garden suburb a phenomenon that originated in England in the late eighteenth century was quickly adopted in the United State and northern Europe and gradually proliferated throughout the world These bucolic settings offered an ideal lifestyle typically outside the city but accessible by streetcar train and automobile Today the principles of the garden city movement are once again in play as retrofitting the suburbs has become a central issue in planning Strategies are emerging that reflect the goals of garden suburbs in creating metropolitan communities that embrace both the intensity of the city and the tranquility of nature Paradise Planned is the comprehensive encyclopedic record of this movement a vital contribution to architectural and planning history and an essential recourse for guiding the repair of the American townscape

Urban Visions Carmen Díez Medina, Javier Monclús, 2018-06-23 This book is a useful reference in the field of urbanism It explains how the contemporary city and landscape have been shaped by certain twentieth century visions that have carried over into the twenty first century Aimed at both students and professionals this collection of essays on diverse subjects and cases does not attempt to establish universal interpretations it rather highlights some outstanding episodes that help us understand why the planning culture has given way to other forms of urbanism from urban design to strategic urbanism or landscape urbanism Compared with global interpretations of urbanism based on socioeconomic history or architectural historiography Urban Visions From Planning Culture to Landscape Urbanism aims to present the discipline couched in international contemporary debate and adopt a historic and comparative perspective The book s contents pertain equally to other related disciplines such as architecture urban history urban design landscape architecture and geography Foreword by Rafael Moneo

Urban Transport XXVI S. Syngellakis, 2020-11-24 A continuous requirement for better urban transport systems and the need for a healthier environment has resulted in an increasing demand for new solutions Innovative systems new approaches and original ideas need to be thoroughly tested and critically evaluated before they can be implemented in practice Moreover there is a growing need for integration with telecommunications systems and IT applications in order to improve safety security and efficiency This volume also addresses the need to solve important pollution problems associated with urban transport in order to achieve a healthier environment The variety of topics covered by the included research works which were presented at the 26th International Conference on Urban Transport and the Environment reflect the complex interaction of urban transport systems with their environment and the need to establish integrated strategies The goal is to arrive at optimal socio economic solutions while reducing the negative environmental impacts of current transportation systems Re-Humanizing Architecture Ákos Moravánszky, Judith Hopfengärtner, 2016-12-19 After the Second World War a divided Europe was much affected by a period of reconstruction This was influenced by the different political systems in the socialist East and in the capitalist West the focus was on cohesion in society and its cultural and architectural expression In parallel to the rapidly progressing industrialization of the building industry debates on the humanization of the built environment were led on both sides with great intensity The volume shows how on the back of existentialism new monumentality and socialist realism quite similar concepts and strategies were developed in order to find answers to questions relating to adequate structures for new forms of community and identity Making it Modern Aaron Betsky, 2016-12-15 At its root modernism is that fundamental It is a question of having something to represent that is of the moment In the most radical interpretation modernism always comes too late The modern is that which is always new which is to say always changing and already old by the time it has appeared Modernism is always a retrospective act one of documenting or trying to catch what has already appeared an attempt to fix life as it is being lived Modernity is just the very fact that we as human beings are continually remaking the world around us through our actions and are doing so consciously Modernism is a monument to or memory of that act which in its own making tries to remake the world it is pretending to represent The Palgrave Handbook of Bottom-Up Urbanism Mahyar Arefi, Conrad Kickert, 2018-06-27 Who shapes our cities In an age of increasing urban pluralism globalization and immigration decreasing public budgets and an ongoing crisis of authority among designers and planners the urban environment is shaped by a number of non traditional stakeholders The book surveys the kaleidoscope of views on the agency of urbanism providing an overview of the various scholarly debates and territories that pertain to bottom up efforts such as everyday urbanism DIY urbanism guerilla urbanism tactical urbanism and lean urbanism Uniquely this book seeks connections between the various movements by curating a range of views on the past present and future of bottom up urbanism The contributors also connect the recent trend of bottom up efforts in the West with urban informality in the Global South drawing parallels and finding contrast between social and institutional structures across the globe The book appeals to urbanists in the widest sense of the word those who shape study and improve our urban spaces Architecture and the Welfare State Mark Swenarton, Tom Avermaete, Dirk van den Heuvel, 2014-09-15 In the decades following World War Two and in part in response to the Cold War governments across Western Europe set out ambitious programmes for social welfare and the redistribution of wealth that aimed to improve the everyday lives of their citizens Many of these welfare state programmes housing schools new towns cultural and leisure centres involved not just construction but a new approach to architectural design in which the welfare objectives of these state funded programmes were delineated and debated The impact on architects and architectural design was profound and far reaching with welfare state projects moving centre stage in architectural discourse not just in Europe but worldwide This is the first book to explore the architecture of the welfare state in Western Europe from an international perspective With chapters covering Austria Belgium France Germany Italy The Netherlands Sweden and the UK the book explores the complex role played by architecture in the formation and development of the welfare state in both theory and practice Themes include the role of the built environment in the welfare state as a political project the colonial dimension of European welfare state architecture and its export to Africa and Asia the role of welfare state projects in promoting consumer culture and economic growth the picture of the collective produced by welfare state architecture the role of architectural innovation in the welfare state the role of the architect as opposed to construction companies and others in determining what was built the relationship between architectural and social theory the role of internal institutional critique and the counterculture Contributors include Tom Avermaete Eve Blau Nicholas Bullock Miles Glendinning Janina Gosseye Hilde Heynen Caroline Maniaque Benton Helena Mattsson Luca Molinari Simon Pepper Michelle Provoost Lukasz Stanek Mark Swenarton Florian Urban and Dirk van den Heuvel

Interurban Knowledge Exchange in Southern and Eastern Europe, 1870-1950 Eszter Gantner, Heidi Hein-Kircher, Oliver Hochadel, 2020-10-22 Around 1900 cities in Southern and Eastern Europe were persistently labeled backward and delayed Allegedly they had no alternative but to follow the role model of the metropolises of London Paris or Vienna This edited volume fundamentally questions this assumption It shows that cities as diverse as Barcelona Berdyansk Budapest Lviv Milan Moscow Prague Warsaw and Zagreb pursued their own agendas of modernization In order to solve their pressing problems with respect to urban planning and public health they searched for best practices abroad The solutions they gleaned from other cities were eclectic to fit the specific needs of a given urban space and were thus often innovative This applied urban knowledge was generated through interurban networks and multi directional exchanges Yet in the period around 1900 this transnational municipalism often clashed with the forging of urban and national identities highlighting the tensions between the universal and the local This interurban perspective helps to overcome nationalist perspectives in historiography as well as outdated notions of center and periphery This volume will appeal to scholars from a large number of disciplines including urban historians historians of Eastern and Southern Europe historians of science and medicine and scholars interested in transnational connections

groundbreaking 1935 book that launched the study of Los Angeles as an urban metropolis is available in English No book on the emergence of Los Angeles today a metropolis of more than four million people has been more influential or elusive than this volume by Anton Wagner Originally published in German in 1935 as Los Angeles Werden Leben und Gestalt der Zweimillionenstadt in S dkalifornien it is one of the earliest geographical investigations of a city understood as a series of layered landscapes Wagner demonstrated that despite its geographical disadvantages Los Angeles grew rapidly into a dominant urban region bolstered by agriculture real estate development transportation infrastructure tourism the oil and automobile industries and the film business Although widely reviewed upon its initial publication his book was largely forgotten until reintroduced by architectural historian Reyner Banham in his 1971 classic Los Angeles The Architecture of Four Ecologies This definitive translation is annotated by Edward Dimendberg and preceded by his substantial introduction which traces Wagner s biography and intellectual formation in 1930s Germany and contextualizes his work among that of other geographers It is an essential work for students scholars and curious readers interested in urban geography and the rise of Los Angeles as a global metropolis

The Routledge Handbook of Planning Theory Michael Gunder, Ali Madanipour, Vanessa Watson, 2017-08-23 The Routledge Handbook of Planning Theory presents key contemporary themes in planning theory through the views of some of the most innovative thinkers in planning They introduce and explore their own specialized areas of planning theory to conceptualize their contemporary positions and to speculate how these positions are likely to evolve and change as new challenges emerge In a changing and often unpredictable globalized world planning theory is core to understanding how planning and its practices both function and evolve As illustrated in this book planning and its many roles have changed profoundly over the recent decades so have the theories both critical and explanatory about its practices values and knowledges In the context of these changes and to contribute to the development of planning research this handbook identifies and introduces the cutting edge and the new emerging trajectories of contemporary planning theory The aim is to provide the reader with key insights into not just contemporary planning thought but potential future directions of both planning theory and planning as a whole This book is written for an international readership and includes planning theories that address or have emerged from both the global North and parts of the world beyond

Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe Mario Reimer, Panagiotis Getimis, Hans Blotevogel, 2014-02-05 Ideal for students and practitioners working in spatial planning the Europeanization of planning agendas and regional policy in general Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe develops a systematic methodological framework to analyze changes in planning systems throughout Europe The main aim of the book is to delineate the coexistence of continuity and change and of convergence and divergence with regard to planning practices across Europe Based on the work of experts on spatial planning from twelve European countries the authors underline the specific and context dependent variety and disparateness of planning transformation focusing on the main objectives of the changes the driving forces behind them and the main phases and turning points the main agenda setting actors and the different planning modes and tools reflected in the different policy and planning styles Along with a methodological framework the book includes twelve country case studies and the comparative conclusions covering a variety of planning systems of EU member states According to the four ideal types of planning systems identified in the EU Compendium at least two countries have been selected from each of the four different planning traditions regional economic France Germany Urbanism Greece Italy comprehensive integrated Denmark Finland Netherlands Germany land use planning UK Czech Republic Belgium Flanders along with two additional case studies focusing on the recent developments in eastern European countries by looking at Poland and in southern Europe looking at Turkey

Architecture, Democracy and Emotions Till Großmann, Philipp Nielsen, 2018-11-06 After 1945 it was not just Europe's parliamentary buildings that promised to house democracy hotels in Turkey and Dutch shopping malls proposed new democratic attitudes and feelings Housing programs in the United Kingdom the United States and the Soviet Union were designed with the aim of creating new social relations among citizens and thus better more equal societies Architecture Democracy and Emotions focuses on these competing promises of consumer democracy welfare democracy and socialist democracy Spanning from Turkey across Eastern and Western Europe to the United States the chapters investigate the emotional politics of housing and representation during the height of the Cold War as well as its aftermath post 1989 The book assembles detailed research on how the claims and aspirations of being democratic influenced the affects of architecture and how these claims politicized space Architecture Democracy and Emotions contributes to the study of Europe's democratic age beyond Cold War divisions without diminishing political differences The combination of an emotional history of democracy with an architectural history of emotions distinguishes the book's approach from other recent investigations into the interconnection of mind body and space
