Subliminally Exposed Steven Dayan, 2020-12-31 The New York Times bestseller that explores the primitive world of human programming as it pertains to beauty culture and evolution Beauty is raw powerful and often dangerous but when refined harnessed and mastered it can be incredibly influential Just as there is a good reason why all humans find sugar to be sweet and a growling beast intimidating there is an evolutionary logic to why our appearances allow us to communicate and manipulate each other at a subconscious level Who you choose to mate befriend or work with often pivots on a few critical yet subliminal decisions made within a fraction of a second The human brain has been evolving over 3 5 million years and our thoughts behaviors and actions are rooted in a system that is evolutionary adaptive and unencumbered by political social or religious constraints Evolution only cares about one thing survival of our genes Subliminally Exposed will reveal the how and why behind your actions and empower you to decode and translate others subconscious behaviors Whether it is for political employment or relationship purposes the knowledge and tools gained from the words in this book can be used for betterment or deceit It is your choice Regardless be forewarned The information you are about to read will affect every one of your relationships for better or worse in one way or another

Multisensory Landscapes Lara Koegst, Olaf Kühne, Dennis Edler, 2023-06-21 This book provides a broad view on multisensory landscapes from multiple perspectives It includes theoretical perspectives as well as case studies Different theoretical perspectives on landscape emerging from research in the last decades also require a differentiated approach to landscape phenomena going beyond the visual For example a social constructivist approach to the social world foregrounds the processes of negotiating social realities This is not limited to visual aspects and is not based on a clear physical measurability with an accompanying purely quantitative recording A phenomenological approach for example places the synesthetic experience of landscape at the core of interest This approach to the topic of multisensory via landscape is obvious for several reasons Firstly landscape is created from a constructivist perspective through the synthesis of sensory impressions on the basis of social patterns of interpretation and evaluation Secondly communication about landscape is also accessible to people who do not have any expertlike special knowledge in this regard Thirdly landscape as a changing concept is not only a concept of landscape but also of landscape itself Fourthly landscape as a changeable concept is particularly suitable for conceptually framing the highly fleeting non visual stimuli

To which are Prefixed Principles of English Pronunciation, Etc* John Walker (the Philologist.),1823 The Scent of Ancient Magic Britta K. Ager,2022-04-27 Magic was a fundamental part of the Greco Roman world Curses erotic spells healing charms divination and other supernatural methods of trying to change the universe were everyday methods of coping with the difficulties of life in antiquity While ancient magic is most often studied through texts like surviving Greco Egyptian spellbooks and artifacts like lead curse tablets for a Greek or Roman magician a ritual was a rich sensual experience full of unusual tastes smells textures and sounds bright colors and sensations like fasting and sleeplessness Greco Roman magical rituals were particularly dominated by the sense of smell both fragrant smells and foul odors Ritual practitioners surrounded themselves with clouds of fragrant incense and perfume to create a sweet and inviting atmosphere for contact with the divine and to alter their own perceptions they also used odors as an instrumental weapon to attack enemies and command the gods Elsewhere odiferous herbs were used equally as medical cures and magical ingredients In literature scent and magic became intertwined as metaphors with fragrant spells representing the dangers of sensual perfumes and conversely smells acting as a visceral way of envisioning the mysterious action of magic The Scent of Ancient Magic explores the complex interconnection of scent and magic in the Greco Roman world between 800 BCE and CE 600 drawing on ancient literature and the modern study of the senses to examine the sensory depth and richness of ancient magic Author Britta K Ager looks at how ancient magicians used scents as part of their spells to put themselves in the right mindset for an encounter with a god or to attack their enemies through scent Ager also examines the magicians who appear in ancient fiction like Medea and Circe and the more metaphorical ways in which their spells are confused with perfumes and herbs This book brings together recent scholarship on ancient magic from classical studies and on scent from the interdisciplinary field of sensory studies in order to examine how practicing ancient magicians used scents for ritual purposes how scent and magic were conceptually related in ancient literature and culture and how the assumption that strong scents convey powerful effects of various sorts was also found in related areas like ancient medical practices and normative religious ritual Learning to Smell Donald A.
