Time Of Our Singing The Richard Powers:

The Time of Our Singing Richard Powers, 2004 On Easter day 1939 a German Jewish emigre scientist meets a young Philadelphia Negro studying to be a singer Their mutual love of music draws them together and against all odds and better judgment they marry They vow to raise their children beyond time beyond identity steeped only in song The Time of Our Singing Richard Powers, 2004-01-01 The last novel where I rooted for every character and the last to make me cry Marlon James Elle From the Pulitzer Prize winning author of The Overstory and the Oprah's Book Club selection Bewilderment comes Richard Powers's magnificent multifaceted novel about a supremely gifted and divided family set against the backdrop of postwar America On Easter day 1939 at Marian Anderson's epochal concert on the Washington Mall David Strom a German Jewish migr scientist meets Delia Daley a young Black Philadelphian studying to be a singer Their mutual love of music draws them together and against all odds and their better judgment they marry They vow to raise their children beyond time beyond identity steeped only in song Jonah Joseph and Ruth grow up however during the civil rights era coming of age in the violent 1960s and living out adulthood in the racially retrenched late century Jonah the eldest whose voice could make heads of state repent follows a life in his parents beloved classical music Ruth the youngest devotes herself to community activism and repudiates the white culture her brother represents Joseph the middle child and the narrator of this generation bridging tale struggles to find himself and remain connected to them both Richard Powers's The Time of Our Singing is a story of self invention allegiance race cultural ownership the compromised power of music and the tangled loops of time that rewrite all belonging Richard Powers "The time of our singing" Hubert Zapf, 2010 The Time of Our Singing Proof Richard Powers, 2002-10-03 Subject of the Event Sebastian Huber, 2016-05-05 What does falling in love have in common with the fall of the Berlin Wall Or the fall of the Twin Towers In the light of postmodernism's programmatic critique of a humanist notion of the subject and an emphatic understanding of events Subject of the Event shows that selected American novels after 2000 offer an alternative to the death of the subject As the first book to comprehensively engage with Alain Badiou's writings outside of a philosophical context Subject of the Event analyzes five critically acclaimed novels of the new millennium Cormac McCarthy's The Road 2006 Jess Walter's The Zero 2006 Mark Z Danielewski's Only Revolutions 2006 Paul Beatty's Slumberland 2008 and Thomas Pynchon's Against the Day 2006 and argues that they create different subjects of the event that are empowered with reagency The subject of the event and its empowerment what this book calls reagency implies that subjects only evolve out of their confrontation with the revolutionary impetus that events propel Unlike a humanist capability of having agency reagency is defined as a repetitive subjective praxis that is contingent upon events which is given a concrete literary form in the novels under investigation Sebastian Huber explores how the American penchant for events new beginnings clean slates apocalypse is being critically dealt with in the novels at hand while still offering an emphatic idea of singular disruptions that open up ways for subjects to affirm and become empowered

Water and Sanitation David Satterthwaite, 2003 Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Contemporary American Fiction David Brauner, 2010-04-20 This is an accessible lucid and incisive study that will prove indispensable to students and scholars of contemporary

American fiction Featuring a wide range of authors from canonical figures such as Philip Roth Don DeLillo and Annie Proulx to increasingly influential writers such as Jeffrey Eugenides Gish Jen and Richard Powers the book combines detailed readings of key texts with informative discussions of their historical social and cultural contexts There are chapters focusing on formal characteristics the use of irony and paradox in novels by Don DeLillo Paul Auster and Bret Easton Ellis and the generic properties of the texts and films of Cold Mountain Brokeback Mountain and No Country for Old Men and on thematic concerns the representation of gender and sexuality in novels by Jane Smiley Carol Shields and Jeffrey Eugenides and of ethnicity race and hybridity in fiction by Gish Jen Philip Roth and Richard Powers Running through all these chapters is an interrogation of all three elements making up the phrase contemporary American fiction

Key Features Identifies some of the main trends in contemporary American fiction and situates them in historical and cultural contexts Discusses a representative range of recent fiction providing a sense of the rich diversity of the field and of its key themes and modes of writing Introduces students to a variety of critical approaches to and debates concerning contemporary American fiction Encourages reflection on the nature of national gender ethnic and generic identities

Obama and Race Richard H King, 2014-01-02 In this collection academics from both sides of the Atlantic analyze the confluence of a politician a process and a problem Barack Obama the 2008 US presidential election and the problem of race in contemporary America The special focus falls upon Barack Obama himself who appears in many guises as an individual from biracial and transnational backgrounds a skilled urban African American organizer and then politician and as intellectual and author of a bestselling autobiographical exploration There is a certain representative quality about Obama that makes him a convenient way into the labyrinth of American race relations national and regional politics including the South and Hawaii and past history particularly from the 1960s to the present Contributors also explore the role Michelle Obama has played in this process both separately from and together with her husband while one theme running through many chapters concerns the myriad ways that the American left right and centre differ on the nature and future of race in a country that daily becomes more mixed in ethnic and racial terms Race is everywhere race is nowhere The essays are grouped by their approach to the topic of Obama and race via historical analysis cultural studies political science and sociology as well as pedagogy The result is an exciting mix of perspectives on one of the most fascinating phenomena of our time This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Patterns of Prejudice

Musical Stimulacra Ivan Delazari, 2020-12-29 The title coinage of this book stimulacra refers to the fundamental capacity of literary narrative to stimulate our minds and senses by simulating things through words Musical stimulacra are passages of fiction that readers are empowered to transpose into mental simulations of music The book theorizes how fiction can generate musical experience explains what constitutes that experience and explores the musical dimensions of three American novels William T Vollmann's Europe Central 2005 William H Gass's Middle C 2013 and Richard Powers's Orfeo 2014 Musical Stimulacra approaches fiction's music from a readerly perspective Instead of looking at how novels forever fail to compensate for music's physical structural and affective properties the book concentrates on what literary narrative can do musically Negotiating common grounds for cognitive audionarratology and intermediality studies Musical Stimulacra builds its case on the assumption that among other things fiction urges us to listen to musical words and worlds

The Ways of the Word Garrett Stewart, 2022-01-15 In The Ways of the Word Garrett Stewart steps aside from theory to focus on the sheer pleasure of attentive reading and the excitement of recognizing the play of syllables and words upon which the best literary writing is founded Emerging out of teaching creative writing and a broader effort to convene writers and critics Stewart's episodes in verbal attention track the means to meaning through the byways of literary wording Through close engagement with literary passages and poetic instances whose imaginative demands are their own reward Stewart gathers exhibits from dozens of authors from Dickinson Dickens and DeLillo to Whitman Woolf and Colson Whitehead In the process idiom tense etymology and other elements of expressive language and its phonetic wordplay are estranged and heard anew The Ways of the Word fluidly and intuitively reveals a verbal alchemy that is as riveting as it is elusive and mysterious
