Shame on Me Tessa McWatt, 2020-03-24 FINALIST FOR THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S AWARD FOR NON FICTION Interrogating our ideas of race through the lens of her own multi racial identity critically acclaimed novelist Tessa McWatt turns her eye on herself her body and this world in a powerful new work of non fiction Tessa McWatt has been called Susie Wong Pocahontas and black bitch and has been judged not black enough by people who assume she straightens her hair Now through a close examination of her own body nose lips hair skin eyes ass bones and blood which holds up a mirror to the way culture reads all bodies she asks why we persist in thinking in terms of race today when racism is killing us Her grandmother's family fled southern China for British Guiana after her great uncle was shot in his own dentist's chair during the First Sino Japanese War McWatt is made of this woman and more those who arrived in British Guiana from India as indentured labour and those who were brought from Africa as cargo to work on the sugar plantations colonists and those whom colonialism displaced How do you tick a box on a census form or job application when your ancestry is Scottish English French Portuguese Indian Amerindian African and Chinese How do you finally answer a question first posed to you in grade school What are you And where do you find a sense of belonging in a supposedly post racial world where shadism fear of blackness identity politics and call out culture vie with each other noisily relentlessly and still lethally Shame on Me is a personal and powerful exploration of history and identity colour and desire from a writer who having been plagued with confusion about her race all her life has at last found kinship and solidarity in story Making Up the Difference Erynn Masi de Casanova,2011-06-01

Globalization and economic restructuring have decimated formal jobs in developing countries pushing many women into informal employment such as direct selling of cosmetics perfume and other personal care products as a way to make up the difference between household income and expenses In Ecuador with its persistent economic crisis and few opportunities for financially and personally rewarding work women increasingly choose direct selling as a way to earn income by activating their social networks While few women earn the cars and trips that are iconic prizes in the direct selling organization many use direct selling as part of a set of household survival strategies In this first in depth study of a cosmetics direct selling organization in Latin America Erynn Masi de Casanova explores women s identities as workers including their juggling of paid work and domestic responsibilities their ideas about professional appearance and their strategies for collecting money from customers Focusing on women who work for the country s leading direct selling organization she offers fascinating portraits of the everyday lives of women selling personal care products in Ecuador s largest city Guayaquil Addressing gender relations including a look at men s direct and indirect involvement the importance of image and the social and economic context of direct selling Casanova challenges assumptions that this kind of flexible employment resolves women s work home conflicts and offers an important new perspective on women s work in developing countries Shades of Difference Evelyn Glenn,2009-01-23

Shades of Difference examines the significance of skin color in different societies around the world and its effects on relations between and within racial groups Please Make Me Pretty, I Don't Want to Die Tawanda Mulalu,2022-09-13

The debut collection of an exciting new voice in poetry Please make me pretty I don t want to die explores tactility sound sensuality and intimacy Set across the four seasons of a year these fresh and original poems by Tawanda Mulalu combine an inviting confessional voice and offbeat imagery and offer an appealing mixture of seriousness and humor The speaker of these poems probes romantic and interracial intimacy the strangeness and difficulty of his experiences as a diasporic Black African in White America his time working as a teacher s assistant in a third grade classroom and his ambivalent admiration for canonical poets who have influenced him especially Sylvia Plath Juxtaposing traditional forms such as sonnets and elegies with less orthodox interjections such as prose poem prayers and other meditations the collection presents a poetic world both familiar and jarring one in which history the body and poetry can collide in a single surprising turn of image The stars also suffer Immense and dead their gasses burn distant like castanets of antebellum teeth My open window a synecdoche of country Obagi Skin Health Restoration and Rejuvenation Zein E. The Parasite-Stress Theory of Values and Sociality Randy Thornhill, Corey L. Fincher, 2014-07-17 This book develops and tests an ecological and evolutionary theory of the causes of human values the core beliefs that guide people s cognition and behavior and their variation across time and space around the world We call this theory the parasite stress theory of values or the parasite stress theory of sociality The evidence we present in our book indicates that both a wide span of human affairs and major aspects of human cultural diversity can be understood in light of variable parasite infectious disease stress and the range of value systems evoked by variable parasite stress The same evidence supports the hypothesis that people have psychological adaptations that function to adopt values dependent upon local infectious disease adversity The authors have identified key variables variation in infectious disease adversity and in the core values it evokes for understanding these topics and in novel and encompassing ways Although the human species is the focus in the book evidence presented in the book shows that the parasite stress theory of sociality informs other topics in ecology and evolutionary biology such as variable family organization and speciation processes and biological diversity in general in non human animals
