Sports Awards Speech

Good Evening, as my good friend and classmate, John O'Brien, mentioned, my name is Vincent LaFuma and I graduated Cathedral in 2001. When John asked me to give this speech, I admit, I was a bit hesitant. Hesitant because I am not a fan of public speaking, I never have been. I thought about it for a few days. I remembered sitting in the very seats that you are all sitting in tonight. I remembered working hard throughout the year and looking forward to the sports awards dinner. I came to the conclusion that I owed it back to Cathedral to give the speech. For all that Cathedral for me while I was here and since I graduated.

I want to speak to you tonight about being an underdog and being looked at differently by others. Two stereotypes that are almost always associated with being a Cathedral Man. I am going to speak about my family and myself as an example of that and how being a Cathedral man helps you overcome anytime you feel like that underdog, or when you feel like everyone else looks at you differently.

I grew up in Maspeth, Queens. That was where my parents bought their first home and still live in to this day. My parents migrated to New York from Sicily in the early 1970's. Not knowing English, my mother and her sisters attended Long Island City High School while my grandfather worked in the fire proofing union and my grandmother in a garment factory. Not being able to speak the language put them at an immediate disadvantage-Underdogs. They were ridiculed, teased, even abused physically at times, but they never quit. They forged on learning

China, Taiwan, and International Sporting Events Marcus P. Chu, 2022-07-07 Chu explores the politics behind Taiwanese cities pursuit of international sporting events and the Chinese authorities strategic measures in handling the relations with Taiwan since the 1990s It is assumed that the Chinese authorities constantly oppose Taiwanese cities application for and boycott their subsequent holding of international sporting events Doing so would obstruct Taiwan s capacity to raise its visibility and influence in world society and defend the One China principle In fact the role of China in Taiwan s pursuit of international sporting events is not invariably as a fatal obstructer but sometimes a neutral bystander or even an enthusiastic supporter Chu examines the reasons behind this phenomenon Reviewing the 18 Taiwanese bidding attempts and four hosting projects he argues that China s inconsistent response is determined by the ups and downs of Cross Strait political ties As a result this book provides insight into the nexus between sports and politics in the context of China Taiwan rivalry A must read for scholars students and other watchers of Cross Strait relations

Political Expression in Sport Cem Abanazir, 2022-11-14 This powerful new book looks at how private institutions governing and organising sport restrict political expression Uniquely it makes a case for the freedom of expression for athletes spectators and audiences built upon philosophical foundations In the era of Colin Kaepernick and taking a knee politics and protest in sport have never been more visible and immediate Drawing on a wide range of international cases including protest actions from athletes such as Tommie Smith and John Carlos Naomi Osaka and Feyisa Lilesa as well as the reactions from sport organisations including the IOC FIFA UEFA and the NFL the book argues that the organisation of sport at the hands of associations and leagues and their transnational power to regulate adjudicate and enforce matters according to their interests lead to the restriction of freedom of expression Focusing on the individual the book presents a framework for the defence of freedom of expression in sport on moral grounds and also explores the limits to freedom of expression especially those arising from hate speech that might better serve both the individual and sport as an institution This book is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in the ethics philosophy or politics of sport sport governance the relationship between sport and wider society or moral or political philosophy

Kiesling,Elizabeth S. Rangel,2014-09-15 The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Intercultural discourse and communication is emerging as an important area of research in a highly globalized and connected world where language and culture contact is frequent and cultural misunderstandings and misconceptions abound. The handbook contains contributions from established scholars and up and coming researchers from a range of subfields to survey the theoretical perspectives and applied work in this burgeoning area of linguistics. This timely volume features first a part that introduces the background detailing the scope and topics of the field followed by one that describes four different theoretical approaches and their basic research questions from Ethnography of Speaking and John Gumperz's Interactional Sociolinguistics to Critical Approaches and Postmodernism. The third part Interactional Discourse Features describes and explains the features of talk that are frequently studied in cross cultural research such as turn taking and politeness. The volume also includes a section on Interactional Discourse sites examining cross cultural communication such as Greek Turkish discourse. The final part considers a variety of domains in which interaction takes place such as Translation Business Law Medicine Education and Religion.
