Ways Of Going Home Alejandro Zambra:

Ways of Going Home Alejandro Zambra, 2013-01-08 The writer son of a quiet sympathizer with the Pinochet regime reflects on the progress of his novel in which an unnamed boy from a Chilean suburb witnesses an earthquake and meets an older girl who asks him to spy on her uncle

Ways of Going Home Alejandro Zambra, 2024-08-06 Alejandro Zambra's Ways of Going Home begins with an earthquake seen through the eyes of an unnamed nine year old boy who lives in an undistinguished middleclass housing development in a suburb of Santiago Chile When the neighbors camp out overnight the protagonist gets his first glimpse of Claudia an older girl who asks him to spy on her uncle Raúl In the second section the protagonist is the writer of the story begun in the first section His father is a man of few words who claims to be apolitical but who quietly sympathized to what degree the author isn't sure with the Pinochet regime His reflections on the progress of the novel and on his own life which is strikingly similar to the life of his novel's protagonist expose the raw suture of fiction and reality Ways of Going Home switches between author and character past and present reflecting with melancholy and rage on the history of a nation and on a generation born too late the generation which as the author narrator puts it learned to read and write while their parents became accomplices or victims It is the most personal novel to date from Zambra the most important Chilean author since Roberto Bolaño

The Private Lives of Trees Alejandro Zambra, 2023-02-14 The second novel by the internationally celebrated writer Alejandro Zambra a short and strikingly original The New Yorker book about the stories we spin for ourselves and our loved ones now reissued by Penguin Veronica is late and Julián is increasingly convinced she won't ever come home To pass the time he improvises a story about trees to coax his stepdaughter Daniela to sleep He has made a life as a literature professor developing a novel about a man tending to a bonsai tree on the weekends He is a narrator an architect a chronicler of other people's stories But as the night stretches on before him and the hours pass with no sign of Veronica Julián finds himself caught up in the slipstream of the story of his life of their lives together What combination of desire and coincidence led them here to this very night What will the future and possibly motherless Daniela think of him and his stories Why tell stories at all The second novel by acclaimed Chilean writer Alejandro Zambra The Private Lives of Trees overflows with his signature wit and his gift for crafting short novels that manage to contain whole worlds

Not to Read Alejandro Zambra, 2018 Over the course of the chronicles and literary essays that make up this volume Alejandro Zambra outlines his own particular theory of reading Whether it is in the course of a carefully considered commentary on a specific book or in the digressions born out of a piece on this or that author from Parra Levrero and Pavese to Millán Ribeyro Tanizaki or Bolaño Natalia Ginzburg and Puig the simple act of reading dominates these pages within which the author alternates between forceful and good humoured rants against clichés and impostures and intimist celebrations of true literary experiences The book's title is an allusion to the moment when Zambra decided to stop writing a weekly literary column and began instead to experiment as he explains with the pleasure of not reading certain books thus allowing himself the freedom to open himself up to readings not imperative to the daily routine of literary journalism As in his novels and poems in Not to Read Alejandro Zambra unfurls his characteristic style which place ambiguity restraint and uncertainty above everything else and offer up the suggestion that certain books can touch us in substantial ways In doing so the outlines of a kind of blurry self portrait emerge something like the image of an exemplary writer and reader reflected in a concave mirror in his library and surrounded by ghosts and feelings

The Feeling Child Philippa Page, Inela Selimovic, Camilla Sutherland, 2018-11-15 The Feeling Child Affect and Politics in Latin American Literature and Film compiles a series of essays focusing on the figure of the child within the specific context of the affective turn in the study of contemporary sociocultural settings across Latin America This edited volume looks specifically at the intersection between cultural constructions of childhood and the affective turn within the contemporary sociopolitical landscape of Latin America The editors and contributors share a common aim in furthering comprehension of the particular intensity of the child's affective presence spectatorial haptic silent and spectral among others in contemporary Latin American cultural expression The contributions herein approach this theoretical challenge through an interdisciplinary lens which brings together two burgeoning strands of inquiry The first is the notion of childhood as a significant and inherently political sociocultural space the second is the recognition that affect is integral and fundamental to gaining a more complex understanding of the manner in which contemporary social worlds are made In each case this affective presence is teased out as a register of society shedding light on the issues marking out the current sociopolitical landscape in particular the traces of the recent past in the regions represented This book brings together established international scholars and young academics focusing on Argentina Bolivia Chile Cuba and Peru

Growing up in Latin America Pilar Osorio Lora, Marco Ramírez Rojas, 2022-07-18 Growing up in Latin America contributes to the growing body of scholarship on the representation of children and minors in contemporary Latin American literature and film This volume looks closely at the question of agency and the role of minors as active participants in the complex historical processes of the Latin American continent during the 20th and 21st centuries both as national citizens and as transnational migrants Questions of gender migration violence post coloniality and precarity are central to the analysis of childhood and youth narratives in this collection of essays The Insurmountable Darkness of Love Douglas E. Christie, 2022 This book is a reflection on the meaning of spiritual darkness especially those difficult places in human experience where meaning seems to elude us where we are emptied out and are compelled to dig deeper into who we truly are Douglas E Christie takes up this facet of experience in ordinary human experience but also in relation to the Christian contemplative and mystical traditions where such experience is often understood to be both painful and transformative allowing the mind and heart to open in love Indelicacy Amina Cain, 2025-09-23 FINALIST FOR THE CENTER FOR FICTION S FIRST NOVEL PRIZE Cain s small but mighty novel reads like a ghost story and packs the punch of a feminist classic The New York Times Book Review A haunted feminist fable Amina Cain s Indelicacy is the story of a woman navigating between gender and class roles to empower herself and fulfill her dreams In a strangely ageless world somewhere between Emily Dickinson and David Lynch Blake Butler a cleaning woman at a museum of art nurtures aspirations to do more than simply dust the paintings around her She dreams of having the liberty to explore them in writing and so must find a way to win herself the time and security to use her mind She escapes her lot by marrying a rich man but having gained a husband a house high society and a maid she finds that her new life of privilege is no less constrained Not only has she taken up different forms of time consuming labor social and erotic but she is now however passively forcing other women to clean up after her Perhaps another and more drastic solution is necessary Reminiscent of a lost Victorian classic in miniature yet taking equal inspiration from such modern authors as Jean Rhys Octavia Butler Clarice Lispector and Jean Genet Amina Cain

s Indelicacy is at once a ghost story without a ghost a fable without a moral and a down to earth investigation of the barriers faced by women in both life and literature It is a novel about seeing class desire anxiety pleasure friendship and the battle to find one s true calling

Post-Conflict Literature Chris Andrews, Matt McGuire, 2016-04-20 This book brings together a variety of perspectives to explore the role of literature in the aftermath of political conflict studying the ways in which writers approach violent conflict and the equally important subject of peace Essays put insights from Peace and Conflict Studies into dialog with the unique ways in which literature attempts to understand the past and to reimagine both the present and the future exploring concepts like truth and reconciliation post traumatic memory historical reckoning therapeutic storytelling transitional justice archival memory and questions about victimhood and reparation Drawing on a range of literary texts and addressing a variety of post conflict societies this volume charts and explores the ways in which literature attempts to depict and make sense of this new philosophical terrain As such it aims to offer a self conscious examination of literature and the discipline of literary studies considering the ability of both to interrogate and explore the legacies of political and civil conflict around the world The book focuses on the experience of post Apartheid South Africa post Troubles Northern Ireland and post dictatorship Latin America The recent history of these regions and in particular their acute experience of ethno religious and civil conflict make them highly productive contexts in which to begin examining the role of literature in the aftermath of social trauma Rather than a definitive account of the subject the collection defines a new field for literary studies and opens it up to scholars working in other regional and national contexts To this end the book includes essays on post 1989 Germany post 9 11 United States the Israeli Palestinian conflict Sierra Leone and narratives of asylum seeker refugee communities This volume s comparative frame draws on well established precedents for thinking about the cultural politics of these regions making it a valuable resource for scholars of Comparative Literature Peace and Conflicts Studies Human Rights Transitional Justice and the Politics of Literature
