and Ethics covers a wide gamut of literary periods and genres including essays on Victorian literature and modernism as well as several studies on narrative but the central ethos emerges from considerations of issues of responsibility and irresponsibility as they find expression in literary study and in ethics Students and academics who are interested in literary theory ethics narrative form and issues of authorial responsibility and how such matters inform the reading of literary texts will find that this collection offers a wide array of approaches and viewpoints by major figures from the relevant sub disciplines in literary studies The collection offers much timely critical observation on a variety of contemporary authors but also provides critically adventurous commentaries on Victorian literature and on Indian African Irish and Australian literature The volume assembles a collection of essays that would illustrate the great diversity of methods by which considerations of responsibility can and do offer insight into a range of literary texts and theoretical discourses while also making a contribution to the philosophical question of responsibility and irresponsibility in the contemporary world The collection as a whole testifies to the human fascination with issues of responsibility just as it testifies to the necessity of posing questions of responsibility as questions of ethics and literature the necessity of recognizing in other words that responsibility names a concept whose only ground is the history of those fictional narratives of responsibility and irresponsibility that modern civilization would do well to continue inventing and reflecting upon critically So whether ethical discourses find expression in theoretical debate or in and through the sophisticated fictions that constitute an imaginative culture what is clear both from wider discussions related to the value of literary texts that are such a central part of contemporary literary studies and from the varied and nuanced arguments that are made in this collection is that questions of responsibility are central to literature philosophy and the arts just as they are to the social realities that spawned them in the first place Literature and Ethics is an important book for all literature and literary theory collections It has specific resonance for students and teachers who are interested in the value of literary study and in questions of ethics and narrative Hysterical Fictions C. Hanson, 2000-08-09 The woman s novel is a term used to describe fiction which while immensely popular among educated women readers sits uneasily between high and low culture Clare Hanson argues that this hybrid status reflects the ambivalent position of its authors and readers as educated women caught between identification with the male gendered intellectual culture and a counter experience of female embodiment Through six case studies the representation of a mind body problem is explored in the fiction of Rosamond Lehmann Elizabeth Bowen Elizabeth Taylor Margaret Drabble A S Byatt and Anita Brookner

The Wild Places Robert Macfarlane, 2008-06-24 From the author of The Old Ways and Underland an eloquent and compulsively readable reminder that though we re laying waste the world nature still holds sway over much of the earth s surface Bill McKibben Winner of the Boardman Tasker Prize for Mountain Literature and a finalist for the Orion Book Award Are there any genuinely wild places left in Britain and Ireland That is the question that Robert Macfarlane poses to himself as he embarks on a series of breathtaking journeys through some of the archipelago s most remarkable landscapes He climbs walks and swims by day and spends his nights sleeping on cliff tops and in ancient meadows and wildwoods With elegance and passion he entwines history memory and landscape in a bewitching evocation of wildness and its vital importance
