Urban Growth in Ethiopia, 1887-1974 Getahun Benti,2016-12-20 This book highlights the positive achievements that Imperial Ethiopia made in its journey towards urbanization into the modern era and undertakes a critical assessment of the economic political and social impediments that prevented the country from transitioning into a truly fully fledged modern urbanization It provides a comprehensive history of the growth of towns between 1887 and 1974 It is organized chronologically regionally and thematically divided into three distinct time periods during which Ethiopian towns saw progresses and exposures to limited modern urban features First during 1887 1936 the country saw the creation and growth of a national capital 1887 that coordinated the country s economic and political activities and facilitated the growth of other towns in the empire It introduced new towns the railway modern schools and health centers Rudimentary factories were established in Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa along with motor cars and modern roads which increased trade between cities The next era was the Italian occupation from 1936 1941 which shook the pre existing process of urban growth by introducing a modern European style urbanization system Ethiopian cities saw a qualitatively different way of urban growth in both form and content The Italians introduced modern economic and physical planning administration and internal organization People were introduced to modern life in urban areas exposed to modern wage labor system and thus moved to towns to take advantage of the opportunity The Italian occupation left behind many features of modern urbanization and this influenced population exposed to modern consumptive tastes was determined to retain what the Italians introduced Finally the post Italian period saw a new era of urban growth Due to economic and organizational problems resulting from destructions caused by the war the process of urban growth was slowed down in the early 1940s Although the government did not introduce a clear urban policy in the immediate aftermath of the Second World War towns continued to grow progressively from the early 1950s to 1974
